KIDNAPING CLOUDS IRISH PEACE FIGHT

Dail Spends Day in Row Over Press.

DUBLIN, Jan. 5.—The kidnapping of a correspondent of the London Times, his rescue by armed men of the Irish republican army, acting under orders to "shoot to kill" if necessary, and a bitter debate in the Dail Eireann on "freedom of the press," almost put the "freedom of the press" in Ireland in the background here today.

While Michael Collins' men were in Dublin in search of A. B. Kay, the kidnapped correspondent, it looked for hours here as if Ireland would be left "flat on its back" without any publicity over its treaty fight.

The English correspondents fought valiantly at two meetings of all the newspapers here for a general boycott by the world press of the proceedings in the Dail until "the De Valera faction abandoned its Russian attitude."

Attack Irish Press.
In the Dail itself, Sean Eichelbaum, one of Mr. De Valera's lieutenants, denounced the expulsion of the representative of the Freeman's Journal from an editorial attacking De Valera and Eichelbaum's children, styled as Eichelbaum who has achieved fame in the British intelligence service.

"Miss Mary MacSwiney seconded the motion of expulsion and in the debate that followed the press of Ireland generally was given a severe lashing. The Griffith faction, while charging unfairness by the De Valera papers, refused to give freedom of the press.

Finally the expulsion motion was voted up to await possible apology to Mr. Eichelbaum.

Mr. Eichelbaum closed the debate with the threat:

"If the editor does not apologize, we will give him a taste of backwoodsmen."

Kidnaped by Armed Men.
The kidnapping of Mr. Kay took place in a small saloon opposite the university buildings, where he was eating lunch with two other newspaper men. They were sitting in an inner room when three men entered and covered them with revolvers, demanding that Mr. Kay be handed over to them.

Mr. Kay's companions were told if they refused to hand him over they would be killed. The leader said that Mr. Kay would be returned the same night. The matter was at once reported to Mr. Collins, who sent men to Cork with orders to bring Mr. Kay back. "Fight for him if necessary, and if Kay is injured, send him home to be healed."

Mr. Collins' Orders.
A meeting of correspondents from all parts of the world was held this morning before the Dail convened. The correspondents were told that Mr. Kay was in the Dail, and that the press of the world was responsible for his return. Desmond FitzGerald, the Sinn Fein minister of publicity, promised to bring the matter before the Dail.

Mr. Collins' Friends.
It is reported in Dublin that persons connected with the councils of the De Valera faction were cognizant of the kidnapping.

Afternoon, Mr. Collins received a telephone message from the Sinn Fein minister of publicity, Mr. FitzGerald, that Mr. Kay had been released and was in the Dail.

Mr. Collins then issued a statement that Mr. Kay had been released and was in the Dail.

3 TAKEN FOR KILLING BANKER, HOLDUPS BUSY

Day's Net of Robbers Near $40,000.

Colder weather yesterday swept the 1922 crime wave toward its crest, half a dozen sensational robberies and shootings afflicting the day.

Early in the day the president of a suburban bank was slain and a suburban chief of police wounded while a $12,000 pay roll was the bandits' prize. Three suspects arrested.

In a later case two girl employees of a fur store were terrorized while robbers made away with $12,000 worth of garments.

In still another four men, masked and armed, held up seven others in a junk dealer's office, robbing them of $4,000.

A woman played an important part in another robbery in which $1,200 was obtained.

A jewelry store was robbed of $2,000 while many persons were passing the door.

These were the high lights of the day. Minor crimes were numerous. In few instances were there any arrests.

Two men and a woman were arrested last night as suspects in the murder of John Soffel, president of the Maywood State bank, by five bandits yesterday morning.

The quintet also wounded Louis Sweeney, chief of police of Maywood, and Arthur Benson, bank messenger, and escaped with $12,000, the pay roll of the American Can company.

The Packard automobile used by the bandits, which was abandoned half an hour after the shooting in front of 3500 North Kimball avenue, is said to have led to the arrest of the trio.

Police believe the holdup work of the same band that has carried out a number of bank and bank messenger robberies in southern Illinois recently. They say the woman under arrest has been used by the band as a "spotter," and that she, with one of the men in a Packard car, spied on intended victims and laid plans for robberies.

Woman Is Resort Owner.
The woman owns a resort on the west side of Chicago and another in the suburbs, the police say. She has been under surveillance by Pinkerton detectives for some time.

She and the two men were killed on an hour last night, but denied all knowledge of the shooting.

Mr. Soffel had no chance for a hold-up. There was no warning of a hold-up. The first intimation that one was intended came with the fusillade of shots that killed him.

For years the man company's pay roll has been delivered by the Maywood bank on the 5th and 20th of each month. Yesterday the money was placed in two satchels and Chief Sweeney was summoned with his police flivver to transport and guard it to the company's offices, three blocks away.

President Soffel elected to superintend the delivery in person. The satchels were placed in the rear seat of the little car and he and Benson climbed in.

Bandit Car in Waiting.
As the flivver-drove away from the curb before the bank a large, mud-splashed, closely curtained touring car, which had been stopped a short distance away, sped after it. A half block from the company's offices Chief Sweeney heard the roar of the large car and pulled to the side of the street to let it pass.

The big car drew alongside. In a flash the curtains and doors opened, men with revolvers and sawed off shotguns appeared, and a torrent of lead poured into the flivver.

Mr. Soffel instinctively raised a hand to protect his face. A bullet cut off two fingers and entered his mouth. A second struck him under an eye and as he fell forward a third struck him beside the nose.

Chief Sweeney attempted to draw his revolver, but a bullet struck him under the right arm. At the same instant one of the bandits jerked the rear door of the flivver open and fired at Benson, burning his face. Then he reached over the body of Mr. Soffel, dragged the two money bags out of the car, and ran to his own machine.

As he jumped into the car Chief Sweeney made another grab for his revolver and drew another fusillade of shots. Then the touring car sped away.

$12,000 FUR ROBBERY.
Three armed bandits held up the fur store of John Glaser, 4645 Sheridan street, shortly after 5:30 o'clock yesterday.

Disappear on Wedding Eve in Los Angeles

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 5.—[Special.]—A society wedding, scheduled to have taken place tomorrow, which would have linked two prominent and wealthy families, has been called off because the bride and groom are mysteriously missing, having left this city in opposite directions.

John R. Cudahy, son of the late John Cudahy, pioneer banker and meat packer of Chicago, was to have been the groom. Miss Louise Chénier Francis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Garesche Francis of St. Louis, was to have been the bride.

Wedding Planned for December.
The engagement of the young couple was announced by Mrs. Francis, the girl's mother, at Santa Monica. At that time the marriage was planned for the latter part of December, but the new year came and it did not happen. Last week Miss Francis said the wedding would occur within a few days.

The prospective bridegroom disappeared from his apartment over a week ago. He is reported to be at the home of friends in this city. His mother, Mrs. John Cudahy, who until recently was a patient at a Pasadena hospital, declines to receive visitors.

Statement by Girl's Father.
Arthur G. Francis, father of the girl, and his prospective son-in-law recently had a conference. Following this young Mr. Cudahy went into seclusion for several days. His friends state that he announced the marriage was off, that "it was a money matter."

Last Friday Miss Francis said the wedding "would take place in a day or two." Later her father stated that the marriage was indefinitely postponed.

A large number of Chicagoans and others from the middle west had arrived here to attend the wedding.

STATE REVEALS SPECIFIC COUNTS AGAINST SMALL

Gives Particulars of Its Plot Charges.

BY PARKE BROWN.
Gov. Len Small got the state bill of particulars yesterday and he got it with both barrels.

Small's lawyers had demanded from the state prosecutors this bill of particulars of the case which charges that the present governor conspired with Fred E. Sterling, now lieutenant governor, and Verne Curtis to defraud the people of Illinois out of huge sums of money.

The bill was filed in the Circuit court of Lake county. For the first time is exposed the methods by which these men are alleged to have enriched themselves out of the state treasury.

How the Deal Was Discovered.
One sensational part of the bill recites the experiences of Edward E. Miller, the present state treasurer, when, on assuming the office last January, he demanded that his predecessor, Sterling, turn over to him the actual $10,000,000 shown as in the "safe account" of the securities in which it was invested.

To Miller at first were offered twenty "certificates of deposit" in the Grant Park bank. He was urged to allow it to remain there. He refused and insisted upon either the currency or the securities.

Thereupon, the bill recites, Gov. Small and Verne Curtis brought to him Armour and Swift notes aggregating $9,900,000. This was $100,000 short of the $10,000,000 figure.

That difference, the bill intimates, was made up out of the Curtis and Small assets consisting of notes of individuals. One of these is described as follows:

"One note executed by Edward C. Curtis (who died March 4, 1920) payable to the order of Len Small for $75,000."

Another note payable to Small.

And another described in this way:

"One note executed by Edward C. Curtis payable to the order of Len Small for $5,000 and certain certificates of stock in the Rigby-Farmers Bank (a Curtis bank) in name of Edward C. Curtis and purporting to be endorsed by him in blank for 400 shares."

It was this form of security that was turned over to State Treasurer Miller on Jan. 15, 1921, almost a year after Edward Curtis had died. The dates on his notes were not included in the bill of particulars, but the state regards it as extremely significant that they were made payable to Small, who, during Sterling's term, had been in the position of examiner and investigator of securities in the treasurer's office.

Nearly a Million Here.
The state also sets forth that it is prepared to prove in the trial of Small that the Small-Sterling-Curtis conspiracy netted to the conspirators during the four years of its operation at least $19,690,231.

The figures formally cited are far below the total amount of interest on public funds charged to have been withheld during the terms of Small and Sterling as state treasurer. They are based solely upon the amount of interest known to have been paid on the "famous" packers' notes "in which the 'safe account' kept in the alleged mythical Grant Park bank was invested, and the figures shown by Small and Sterling's returns to the state.

Some Claims of the State.
As an example, the state claims it has been determined that there was $294,045.25 paid in interest on "packers' notes" during Small's term. But the total of the interest he turned in to the state for the two year period was only $450,910.12. These figures alone would establish a shortage of $474,956.46 without taking into account any interest received on other state funds.

In the same way Sterling reported that he received a total of $496,154.99 in interest on funds supposed to have been deposited with the fictitious Grant Park bank. It has been established, according to the state, that at least $443,783.21 was paid in interest on these funds. The total is said to have been larger, but the books of one of the packing houses for a period of more than a year have been destroyed. On this basis, the shortage during Sterling's terms, without taking up the question of interest on other state moneys, was $345,634.15. Putting the terms of the two former treasurers together, fixes the minimum shortage at $519,490.31.

Some New Evidence Revealed.
The bill consists of forty-one typewritten pages, and as the layman works his way through it he finds that amid the mass of legal description is

WIFE SHORTAGE CAUSES MURDERS IN ESKIMO LAND

Ottawa, Ont., Jan. 5.—[By the Associated Press.]—Out of the frozen north, beyond the outposts of civilization, came tonight the details supplying the background for the recently reported murder of five Eskimos, including a 4 year old girl, because of the desire of one man for another man's wife.

This desire, it was explained by Royal Canadian Mounted police, who unearthed the crime, was due to a shortage of women in the barren ice lands. This shortage, they added, was the outcome of an Eskimo custom, but recently abandoned, whereby female children were put to death because of the shortage of food and the unwritten members of a community should be permitted to live.

Details of the quintuple murder have just been received here from Police Corporal Deak, who is searching the territory along 75 degrees north latitude in an attempt to bring the culprits to justice. The crime took place Aug. 1 about thirty miles northeast of the Hudson Bay company's post in Walker Bay, Kent peninsula.

LOCKOUT MAY CLOSE MOVIES

Owners Plan Fight on Wage Demand.

Members of the Motion Picture Operators' union may find themselves locked out of work in a short time unless they withdraw their demand for a wage increase of 15 per cent, according to an announcement made yesterday by theater owners.

Although it was not definitely decided to close the movie houses, it was suggested at a meeting of the Allied Amusement association yesterday that in case efforts to reach an agreement with the operators fail, all shows be discontinued Jan. 11.

After considerable discussion the suggestion was held in abeyance until today's THOMAS E. MALOY meeting between officials of the union and representatives of the association.

Includes Large Houses.
The Allied Amusement association has in its membership the owners of nearly all of the large picture theaters in Chicago. The owners of the smaller houses are members of the Motion Picture Theater Owners' association.

These two associations are dealing with officers of the operators' union are acting in concert.

Shortly after the meeting adjourned last night, a conference was held between Thomas E. Maloy, business representative of the Motion Picture Operators' union, and "Pete" Schaefer, who acted as spokesman for the exhibitors. The entire controversy was thrashed out, but after a two hour session, each side announced its determination to stand "pat."

According to picture house owners, operators now receive from $49.50 to $125 a week and work from four to six hours.

Salaries Mounted Fast.
"Several years ago motion picture operators were lucky if they were paid $20 a week," said an official of the Theater Owners' association, after the meeting.

MONARCHISTS OF GERMANY STILL HOPE FOR KAISER

BERLIN, Jan. 5.—[By the Associated Press.]—The Monarchists have begun circulating a petition embodying birthday greetings to "the martyr of Doorn," which are to be telegraphed to former Emperor William Jan. 27. One hundred thousand signatures were secured for a similar message last year.

The message, which is to be forwarded to Doorn, where the former emperor is living, says:

"Again the thoughts, prayers, and hopes of millions of German men and women go out to your majesty in most reverent devotion. Germany's love for the ruling house is buried deep and cannot die. And the day will come when the source of Prussian-German strength again will be recognized—the source regained, augmented, and strengthened."

"We look and hope for the coming of this day. May God arm you with strength from on high and bless you on this, your birthday; and may your majesty have the pleasure and joy of finally witnessing the placing of guilt for the world war of which the Germans have been unjustly accused, upon the shoulders of those whom truth decrees should bear it."

Pruned of the legal wording, the story begins with this:

"The conspiracy to obtain money and property of the state by false pretenses was entered into about March 30, 1917. Len Small was then state treasurer. The original parties to the conspiracy were Small, Edna Curtis, now dead, and Vernon Curtis, and others unknown."

"Sterling became a party to it on or before Jan. 9, 1919."

Charge Plot to Defraud.

"The purpose and object of the conspiracy were by means of false pretenses, a fictitious bank, false certificates of deposit, false drafts, false vouchers, false accounts, and false accounting to obtain the funds and the use of the funds of the state and thereby to acquire for their own benefit a large sum of money in interest, profit, and discount to which the state was entitled."

"The people will offer and show that the defendants falsely pretended that the place of deposit of these funds was a bank, whereas it was not a bank."

"The defendants pretended that certificates of deposit issued by the fictitious bank were genuine certificates of deposit, whereas they were bogus."

"The defendants falsely represented that the interest rate was about 2 percent, whereas the amount paid in interest and discount was from 5 to 8 1/2 percent."

"They pretended that the reports of Small, as treasurer, and Sterling, as treasurer, of interest earned were true reports, whereas the reports were all false and untrue."

"They pretended in the official records that the funds were on deposit in a bank in accordance with the state law, whereas they were not deposited in a bank, but were invested and loaned to corporations for the private benefit of the defendants."

Enter the "Safe Account."

Here the bill takes up the first appearance on Small's official books of a transfer of money to the "safe account" on March 30, 1917. The state avers that such transfers really were to the Curtis brothers, and that the money transferred to lawful banks were shown as being in the "vault account."

And the books of the "safe account" were not kept in the treasurer's office. It is contended. At least, it has been established that no books for this account for either Small's or Sterling's term is in the treasurer's office now and even the books on the "vault account" for Small's term cannot be found by the state.

The narrative hidden under the legal phraseology continues:

"Small, as treasurer, and Sterling, as treasurer, withdrew from the state treasury the bank of deposit—the Fort Dearborn National bank—large sums of money belonging to the state and the defendants caused them to be invested for their own benefit."

"Bogus Certificates of Deposit."

"As a further device in the execution of the scheme, the defendants issued false, bogus certificates of deposit purporting to be issued by the fictitious bank known as the Grant Park bank. These were merely a false pretense by which funds of the state were turned over to Edward Curtis and Vernon Curtis for unlawful private investment and gain."

"These funds were used to purchase notes and other securities of persons and corporations, among others, Armour & Co., Swift & Co., Morris & Co., and the Cudahy Packing company. On these they received from 5 to 8 1/2 percent. This interest and profit, including discounts, was withheld and retained by the defendants and unknown persons for their own use. No report of the interest was ever made to the state by Small."

$50,000,000 in Small's Control.

"At the expiration of Small's term there was $50,000,000 under his control and that of Edward Curtis and Vernon Curtis and this was withheld from the state when Sterling became treasurer. These funds were to remain and did remain under the control of Small and the Curtis brothers throughout Sterling's term, during which he turned over to them large additional sums."

"In furtherance of their agreement Sterling appointed Small as examiner and investigator for securities for the state, a capacity in which he served throughout Sterling's term. The purchase of packers' notes and similar securities continued."

"The people will show all the facts appearing from the records of the state

FIRST DOCUMENTARY EVIDENCE IN SMALL CASE

Gov. Len Small, whose case is affected by the documentary evidence. (TRIBUNE PHOTO.)

While the state has disclosed in its bill of particulars that scores of "checks, drafts, vouchers, warrants, orders, receipts, memoranda," and other forms of documentary evidence will be introduced in the trial of Gov. Len Small, the only evidence of this nature disclosed thus far is that pictured above. These documents are the so-called "certificates of deposit" given in the name of the Grant Park bank, which the state alleges is a mythical bank, when state funds were turned over to the Curtis brothers for investment in packers' notes and similar securities. The state charges that the certificates are bogus and merely a device to cover up the transfer of money to the Curtis brothers, who invested it in securities paying high interest, only a small part of which reached the state treasury.

RANK AND FILE OF DAIL FIGHT TO SAVE TREATY

Strive for Peace Among Irish Leaders.

DUBLIN, Jan. 5.—[By the Associated Press.]—The Dail Eireann, which met this morning with disruption threatened, adjourned tonight in the hope that a basis of agreement might be reached between the supporters and the opponents of the treaty. The peace committee, which is trying valiantly to patch up an accommodation between the two factions, is meeting again tonight and will report at a private session of the Dail tomorrow morning.

No member of the cabinet is included in the peace committee, which is made up almost exclusively of able members of the rank and file of the Dail who have spoken for and against the treaty. The most notable of these are Owen O'Duffy, De Valera's chaplain and liaison officer of Ulster, who is a supporter of the treaty, and Liam Mellows, an uncompromising republican, who will have nothing to do either with the treaty or De Valera's alternative proposals.

An influential member who joined the committee at its request is John T. O'Kelly, the Sinn Fein representative in Paris, in whom Mr. De Valera and his colleagues opposing the treaty have great confidence.

Make Proposal to De Valera.

The efforts of the peace-makers are believed to be directed toward an arrangement which would allow the treaty to go through, at the same time safeguarding the republican position in the future. Owen O'Duffy explained that the purpose of the meeting of the committee was the formulation of an agreement whereby De Valera's leadership would be retained, and said the committee had before it a document which he could not reveal. Several members of the committee, questioned regarding the situation, declined to give any hint of the way out. They found it impossible to arrive at a compromise last evening, but got so far as placing a proposal before Mr. De Valera, but did not obtain his approval.

Two Present Resignations.

Notwithstanding the many resolutions sent to the members of the Dail from their constituents urging them either to support the treaty or resign, only two of the 120 deputies so far have yielded to this pressure. They are P. J. Maloney of Tipperary, whose resignation Speaker MacNeill announced, and Aid. Drohan, mayor of Clonmel, who resigned because he opposes the treaty while his constituents approve it.

Fears Defeat of Treaty.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—[By the Associated Press.]—J. J. Walsh, member of the Dail Eireann, is quoted in a Central News dispatch from Dublin today as saying in a statement:

"I can definitely state that as the position stands the treaty will be defeated by at least two votes."

Walsh is an advocate of the treaty.

REFUSES APOLOGY

DUBLIN, Jan. 5.—[By the Associated Press.]—The Freeman's Journal, in an editorial replying to the demand by certain members of the Dail Eireann for an apology for its attacks on some of the leaders opposing ratification of the treaty, says:

"As some men of good will are en-

ARREST MOTHER BARRING DOCTORS FROM SICK CHILD

Denville, Ill., Jan. 5.—Mrs. Myrtle Baker, who as "Sister Baker" was the chief supporter of Mrs. Ernest Harrington, who claimed to have fasted forty-nine days in attempting to induce her husband to adopt her religious belief, was arrested today on a statement of lunacy for refusing to allow a daughter to be treated for diphtheria.

An older child died Monday from that disease without being attended by a physician, her parents refusing to give medicines. The insanity case was continued until Saturday and the woman was allowed to return home. Her husband, after her arrest, consented to antiseptic being administered to the sick child and four other children of the family.

While in court "Sister Baker" declared she did not want a lawyer. She also claimed the child now suffering from diphtheria died one year ago and was restored to life.

Deavoring to secure an agreement that will save the country the necessity of saying itself, we refrain from making the answer that otherwise could be made to these press censors, but merely remind our readers of a few facts.

"On Old Christmas eve, 1920, the Freeman's Journal was under suppression and its machinery broken by the British military authorities now suffering from diphtheria died one year ago and was restored to life."

"On Old Christmas eve, 1921, the proprietors and editor of the Freeman's Journal for exposing the torture of a young soldier of the Irish republican army were imprisoned in Mountjoy. In the cause of government in Ireland with the consent of the governed."

Will Maintain Freedom.

"On Old Christmas eve, 1922, the Freeman's Journal is criticized in the Dail Eireann for its endeavor to prevent the defeat of the will of the people by representatives who have lost their representative character. Our personal criticism is objected to."

"The national press of Ireland has just been accused and held up to odium as guilty of base cowardice in the face of British military dictatorship, although the offices of the Irish press newspapers, like our own, have been strewn with wreckage made by the enemy. But the press, it seems, must not reply to its libelers. The national press of Ireland is free and will maintain that freedom against the tyrants, big and little, on whatever side they may be. When it loses that freedom there will be no national press of Ireland."

(Old Christmas eve in the English calendar falls about two weeks after Christmas day, usually on Jan. 6.)

German Railways to Have 6,500,000,000 Marks Deficit

BERLIN, Jan. 5.—It is estimated that the deficit of the German state railways for the year 1922 will exceed 6,500,000,000 marks, which must be provided by a subsidy from other state funds. From Feb. 1 next the railway rates will be increased by from 25 to 30 per cent.

POWERS ACCEPT RULES BARRING 'SUB' ATROCITIES

Protect Passengers and Commerce.

By ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 5.—[Special.]—Unanimous agreement to outlaw the use of the submarine against merchant and passenger ships was reached at a meeting of the conference committee on limitation of naval armament today.

With slight modification, the Root resolutions were accepted by the delegates of the five great naval powers, which not only invite all nations to agree to the prohibition of the use of the submarine as a commerce destroyer under any circumstances, but bind themselves forthwith to observe this prohibition in any war between any of them.

The French delegation agreed to the resolutions after endeavoring in vain to bring about a re-definition of the term merchantman, which would prohibit the arming of commercial ships. The British failed to obtain the inclusion of a prohibition of the use of airplanes as commerce destroyers.

British and French Friendly.

The British and French delegations staged a love feast in the committee meeting. Lord Lee buried the hatchet in a graceful speech in which he captured M. Sarraut's repudiation of a French naval official's assertion that unrestricted submarine warfare affords at last the means of destroying Britain's naval power. M. Sarraut expressed with great feeling his appreciation of Lord Lee's speech, and Mr. Hughes and the Italian and Japanese delegates recorded their profound appreciation of the reestablishment of Franco-British harmony.

The committee will meet tomorrow to consider the last of the Root resolutions which provides that violations of the rule prohibiting the employment of submarines against merchantmen shall be punished as piracy.

O. K. These Root Resolutions.

The text of the Root resolutions adopted today follows:

"The signatory powers desiring to make more effective the rules adopted by civilized nations for the protection of the lives of neutrals and noncombatants at sea in time of war, declare that among those rules the following are to be deemed an established part of international law.

"1. A merchant vessel must be ordered to submit to visit and search to determine its character before it can be seized.

"2. A merchant vessel must not be attacked unless it refuse to submit to visit and search after warning, or to proceed as directed after seizure.

"3. A merchant vessel must not be destroyed unless the crew and passengers have been first placed in safety.

"4. Submarines must observe Rules.

"5. Belligerent submarines are not under any circumstances exempt from the usual rules above stated; and if a submarine cannot capture a merchant vessel in conformity with these rules the existing law of nations requires it to desist from attack and from seizure and to permit the merchant vessel to proceed unmolested.

"The signatory powers invite all other civilized powers to express their assent to the foregoing statement of established law, so that there may be a clear public understanding throughout the world of the standards of conduct by which the public opinion of the world is to pass judgment upon future belligerents.

Makes Commerce Safe.

"The signatory powers recognize the practical impossibility of using submarines as commerce destroyers without violating, as they were violated in the recent war of 1914-1918, the requirements universally accepted by civilized nations for the protection of the lives of neutrals and noncombatants, and to the end that the prohibition of the use of submarines as commerce destroyers shall be universally accepted as a part of the law of nations they now accept that prohibition as henceforth binding as between themselves and they invite all other nations to adhere thereto."

Limit on Size of Guns.

A virtual agreement has been reached on the proposed 10,000-ton and 3-inch gun limitation applying to all but capital ships and airplane carriers.

The naval limitation treaty is not to be an offensive or defensive alliance. It will only be an obligation of any of the parties to go to the defense of another signatory in case of attack.

A British delegation spokesman said that each nation will retain its freedom of action in self-defense, so that in the event of war between any of the signatories the belligerents will be absolved from compliance with the naval limitation agreement and in the event of war between a signatory and a non-signatory the former would have the right to exceed the tonnage limitation for the period of the emergency.

DOCTORS IN 19 STATES DECRY LIQUOR'S VALUE

Neither whisky, wine, nor beer is regarded as a necessary therapeutic agent by the majority of 13,316 physicians in nineteen states, representing all sections of the country, according to replies to an alcoholic questionnaire sent out by the Journal of the American Medical Association.

The replies put 6,797 physicians on record as against whisky as a medicine and 6,519 for it. Only 2,668 supported beer as a therapeutic agent and 3,884 declared for wine for that purpose.

Only 2,684 doctors reported instances of suffering or death due to enforcement of prohibition and 7,696 of the answers declared in favor of restriction in prescribing of whisky, beer and wine.

The questionnaire was sent to physicians in Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Maine, Mississippi, Nebraska, Rhode Island, Arizona, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Georgia, Iowa, Michigan, Montana, North Dakota, Ohio, and Pennsylvania.

abandoned their stand not to accept a person connected with Chicago politics, and Quessie his demand that nothing other than last year's contract be used as a basis for discussion.

The questions to be arbitrated are certain proposed changes in working conditions and a decrease in wages of janitors in apartments renting for more than $100. Under the old agreement the janitors received $4 on the rental of a flat for $60 and $1 for each $15 additional rent.

FRIENDS EXPECT HAYS TO RESIGN CABINET SOON

Washington, D. C., Jan. 5.—[Special.]—Friends of Postmaster General Hays think he will resign from the cabinet soon to become director general of the National Association of the Moving Picture Industry, at a salary of $150,000.

The successor of Mr. Hays in the cabinet, according to political gossip, will be either William McKoy Thompson, chairman of the finance committee of the Republican national committee, or A. D. Lasker of Chicago, chairman of the shipping board. Another possibility mentioned is Walter S. Dickey of Kansas City.

Mr. Hays denied today that he had signed a contract with the moving picture producers, as asserted by a New York newspaper.

"I have nothing to add to my statement in New York that the offer made to me is under consideration and that I have reached no decision," he said.

Published reports that Mr. Hays is impelled to resign from the cabinet because of friction with Attorney General Daugherty, and the disposition of the President to prefer the advice of the attorney general in regard to patronage and other political matters, were pronounced by the postmaster general without foundation. Mr. Daugherty also denied the report.

FIFI MEETS FRED FOR FIRST TIME IN TWO YEARS

Unite in Witness Quest in Canada Woods.

(By a STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)

Three Rivers, Que., Jan. 5.—[Special.]—Last night, for the first time in two years, Mrs. Anne Urquhart Stillman met face to face the Indian guide who has been named co-respondent in her husband's suit against her.

On her arrival at Three Rivers she sent her slender luggage ahead to the Hotel St. Louis, a small French-Canadian hotel. With Philip J. O'Brien, her New York lawyer, accompanying her, and Mayor Jean Crete of Grandes Piles, who met her at the station, she tramped through the snow to the inn, over a mile distant, preferring to walk.

Fred was there to await her. He had arrived shortly after noon from Grandes Piles with Mayor Crete, the other principal in Mrs. Stillman's Canadian defense work.

Greeting Is Conventional.

Beauvais was quiet, but nervous. But when Mrs. Stillman stepped with Crete and O'Brien into the lobby of the little hotel his manner was as quiet and conventional as hers.

"How do you do, madame," he said in English.

"How do you do, Fred," she said, casually. "How are you?"

Mrs. Stillman gave a few directions as to the disposal of her baggage and was shown to her room.

Mrs. Stillman's room, on the fourth floor, was in a row which also contained rooms for Jean Crete and Mr. O'Brien, the attorney. Beauvais' room, on the same floor, was opposite Mr. O'Brien's. A hall at the end of the row of rooms was converted into a workshop for the four as they prepared, without a moment's rest, to plunge into the business which brought them together.

Beauvais Shows His Muscle.

A photographer interrupted the process for about half an hour as he took pictures of Mrs. Stillman, Beauvais, Crete, and O'Brien. The time was utilized for conversation as natural as if the greatest divorce case in American memories had not intervened since the last meeting of madame and her former servant.

After the first flashlight the small room was filled with smoke. As the photographer attempted to get to the skylight to let in air Beauvais demonstrated one aspect of his remarkable physique. He lifted the camera man, who weighs about 150 pounds, high into the air, grasping him just above the ankles.

The athletic stunt was observed by Mrs. Stillman with a smile. The photographer reached the ceiling and opened the skylight as Fred continued to hold him up.

"Well, you see now why they say Fred is the strongest and cleverest woodsman in the north woods," Jean Crete remarked afterwards.

Carefully Map Out Plans.

The party of four sat the council table until late in the night, mapping out their plans of battle. Mrs. Stillman had with her every paper in the case, systematically classified in separate legal folders. Some of these, containing word for word testimony of the French Canadians who testified for Mr. Stillman last year, she has memorized for pages at a time.

The battle lines were arranged. Fred's part is the witnesses in the northern end of the valley and some additional ones from Shawinigan Falls, a tiny village near Grand Mere. Crete's part is the witnesses from Grandes Piles, Three Rivers, and Grand Anse. Lists and testimony were gone over and the specific work of each arranged for by "madame" herself.

Mrs. Stillman will remain in Three Rivers until tomorrow afternoon, when Beauvais rose early this morning and made the trip to Shawinigan Falls by sleigh through a driving blizzard. He will return late tonight with the report from the witnesses there, who will testify as to the day of Mrs. Stillman's trips with her guide and their behavior in the valley.

The two witnesses at Three Rivers, the Wilson girls, promised Mrs. Stillman today that they would testify for her at Montreal. Belle and Linnie Wilson, half breed daughters of a Scotchman and an Indian woman, were maids at the Stillman home in Grand Anse. They saw nothing, but will testify that agents of Mr. Stillman attempted to get them to New York by promises of money and pretty dresses. The two girls were asked by Stillman agents to say they had seen Mrs. Stillman and Fred in compromising relations, it is charged.

Raoul Rivard of Rat River is in Three Rivers at St. Joseph's hospital. He will testify for Mrs. Stillman at Montreal, he said today. He declares he was present when J. Albert Lafontaine, chief agent of Mr. Stillman and chief enemy of Jean Crete, offered drinks and money to a backwoodsman named Joseph Blackburn to testify against Mrs. Stillman.

Blackburn, who is now at Rat River, will also testify at Montreal if Beauvais can reach him during the time remaining before the hearings.

Court Allows $17,500.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Jan. 5.—Supreme Court Justice Morschauer today allowed Mrs. Anne U. Stillman $17,500 more to conduct the defense in the divorce action brought against her by James A. Stillman. Mrs. Stillman asked for $14,000.

'FOUGHT TO KILL,' DUELIST CRIES AT PARIS TRIAL

PARIS, Jan. 5.—[United News.]—Admission by M. La Farge that he "fought to kill" in a duel with Count Deporet, which resulted in the latter's death, caused a sudden switch in the plans for his trial. The duel took place in the old style way, with swords, in the Paro des Princes on Sept. 23. La Farge must now face trial for homicide.

Deporet's seconds told the magistrates that neither man had played and that everything possible was done to prevent a fatal outcome, but La Farge jumped to his feet in the courtroom and exclaimed dramatically:

"I served during the war and I wouldn't wish to partake in a duel of publicity. I fought intending to kill."

9 POWERS AGREE TO BOOST CHINA'S TARIFF TO 5 PCT.

Will Add $46,000,000 to Nation's Revenues.

BY GRAFTON WILCOX.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 5.—[Special.]—With the nine participating powers of the Washington conference sitting at the committee on far eastern affairs today, an agreement was adopted for an increase of Chinese tariff rates to an effective 5 per cent, and a resolution was adopted providing for eventual withdrawal of foreign troops from China.

The Chinese delegates accepted the tariff report submitted by the Underwood subcommittee, although expressing regret that the committee had been unable to recommend tariff autonomy for the Chinese government. Dr. Wellington Koo, Chinese minister to the United States, declared it to be the intention of the delegation to bring the question of restoration of China's tariff autonomy up "on all appropriate occasions in the future."

Provisions of Agreement.

The tariff agreement provides for gradual stages of development and will eventually increase the Chinese revenue by $46,000,000. In substance the agreement provides:

"1. A committee of revision will meet forthwith at Shanghai to revise the present tariff to a basis of 5 per cent effective. This revision will become effective two months after publication without awaiting ratification. It will provide an additional revenue amounting to about $17,000,000, silver.

"2. Immediate steps will be taken for a special conference representing China and the powers charged with the duty of preparing the way for the speedy abolition of the likin and the bringing into effect of the surtaxes provided for in the treaties between China and Great Britain of 1902 and China and the United States and Japan of 1903.

More Revenue Assured.

"The special conference will likewise put into effect a surtax of 2 1/2 per cent ad valorem, which will secure additional revenue amounting to approximately $27,000,000, silver, and a special surtax on luxuries, not exceeding 5 per cent ad valorem, which will provide a still further revenue amounting to $2,167,000, silver.

"Following the immediate revision there will be a second revision in four years and subsequent revisions every seven years."

JAPAN READY TO CUT SUBMARINES IF OTHERS WILL

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

TOKIO, Jan. 5.—The first cabinet meeting after the new year recess discussed Washington problems today. The cabinet favored disassociation of submarines from capital ships in fixing limitations on the navy of the world, thus giving time for the British and French to reach an understanding. Japan is ready to accept the ratios proposed provided the others do.

The cabinet is firm regarding Shantung and has decided to avoid Peking action or Anglo-American mediation. Siberia was discussed, but the exposure of the Soviet forgeries at Washington is regarded as sufficient, although Mr. Blaisdell has documents to prove Japan's side should a further disclaimer be required. Regarding other China problems, the cabinet has decided that the Dairen deadlock shall be left to drift until a more favorable moment.

China Mobilizes More Men.

RIGA, Jan. 5.—A dispatch received from China, capital of the Far Eastern republic in Siberia, announces the mobilization of fresh classes of men in the Amur territory to combat the Kapsel troops. The dispatch adds that refugees from Habarovsk arriving in China report the massacre by white troops of the Far Eastern government employees who had remained behind in that region.

ARIZONA MINES BUREAU INVENTS "DIVINING ROD"

Tucson, Ariz., Jan. 5.—Director G. M. Butler of the Arizona bureau of mines announced today that that organization has perfected and applied for patents on an electric process for locating underground ore bodies. Dr. Butler, who is also dean of the college of mines and engineering of the University of Arizona, announced the invention at a meeting of the board of regents of the university here.

Dr. Butler indicated that the depth, size, and other information regarding concealed copper ore bodies may be ascertained with the electrical device, which, he said, operates upon scientific principles and embodies none of the features of the "touch stick" and similar apparatus. He declared the device had been proved accurate by tests in mining regions in Arizona.

CHINA REGARDS JAPAN-SHANTUNG DEAL HOPELESS

Will Appeal to Balfour and Hughes Today.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)

Washington, D. C., Jan. 5.—[Special.]—Agreement between the Japanese and Chinese delegates on the Shantung issue seemed unlikely tonight after a long session and the Chinese served notice of intention to appeal tomorrow for the intervention of Secretary of State Hughes and Mr. Balfour of England, who proffered their good offices at the outset of the present negotiations, unless Japan's delegates agree to their irreducible minimum submitted tonight.

At the outset of today's session the Chinese flatly refused to accept Japan's insistent proposal that she accept a Japanese loan with which to make payments on the Shantung railroad.

China Makes "Final Offer."

After all Chinese alternative payment proposals had been rejected by Japan the Chinese then made their final concession, offering to pay $32,000,000 in cash to Japan for restoration of the railroad, the payments to be financed through the Chinese consortium. This was made in lieu of the previous offer to make the payments in nine months, in three installments.

The Japanese delegates did not accept the modified proposal, whereupon the Chinese served notice that if the offer were not accepted tomorrow when the delegates met again they would give up the negotiations and suggest that Secretary Hughes and Mr. Balfour be called in as intermediaries.

Think Tokio Dictated Refusal.

The Japanese delegates would not discuss their probable course in the matter, but it was the general impression in conference quarters that the Chinese proposal would not be accepted and that the Japanese have instructions from Tokio not to deviate from the requirement that Japan control the loan to China for financing the restoration of the Shantung road.

Today's conference was reported to have been spirited, the Chinese accusing Japan of bad faith in that the government at Tokio had taken the Shantung issue up direct with Peking after agreement had been made to negotiate a settlement in Washington. The Japanese denied that any direct Shantung negotiations had been conducted between Tokio and Peking.

MAIL TUBES TO BECOME CITY'S IN OCTOBER, 1923

If the federal government is, as reported, about to resume transmission by tube of letter mail between postal stations in Chicago it will have to negotiate with the city next year. Under terms of a franchise which expires Oct. 12, 1923, title to the property of the Chicago Pneumatic Postal Tube company will on that date be vested in the city.

Ald. James B. Bowler yesterday said he will introduce a resolution authorizing the city council committee on gas, oil, and electric light to make plans for taking over the tubes.

PENROSE BURIED IN PHILADELPHIA AMID SECRECY

Family Shuns Pomp for G. O. P. Leader.

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 5.—The funeral of Senator Boies Penrose was held today with great secrecy. With only his brothers, Charles B. Richard, and Spencer and their families hear by the late Republican political leader was lowered into the brick lined grave in South Laurel Hill cemetery.

No information beyond the "strictly private" obituary notice in the newspapers was given out. Nor was it known the funeral was to be today until the bureau of vital statistics yesterday issued a burial permit.

Later in the day Senator Penrose's secretary said there was some sort of service at the grave. He did not know who conducted it. He said Senator Penrose had an aversion to funerals and attended only three in seventeen years. The last was at the burial of Senator F. C. Knox. It is said to be a Penrose family tradition that all funerals of members be strictly private.

Hearse Arrives in Secret.

About 7:30 a. m. the three brothers arrived at the Spruce street home, where the senator's body lay and where he was born. A little later Charles Penrose came out on the front step and waved his arm. A hearse approached the house. The undertaker's assistants carried the coffin to the hearse, which then drove off. The three brothers and their families followed.

Guards were stationed around the cemetery. The public was refused admittance. A steady rain was falling. The funeral party remained at the grave for fifteen minutes and then departed.

Impending Funeral Planned.

Thus was enacted the final scene in the career of a man for whom political leaders had planned one of the largest funerals in the history of Philadelphia. The will of Senator Penrose, leaving his estate to his three brothers, was filed late today. The estate is valued at $100,000 and upwards, but friends said it was worth many times that sum.

"KOMISS FOR KOATS"

An Open Letter to WILLIAM WRIGLEY, JR.—

Dear Mr. Wrighley: We've chewed your gum and we've read your advertising and we have admired your business genius. Every evening as we journey homeward, your great building hands us its cheerful message of success, of achievement, of usefulness.

They say that building cost you seven million dollars. We're pretty sure that you know the worth of every cent of every dollar that went into that building. And we want to translate to you, in terms of your Wrighley Building, in terms of its cost to you, the value of a strip of celluloid that we have in our Roosevelt Theatre on State street near Washington.

Just a thin strip of 2-inch wide celluloid, Mr. Wrighley! Yet the cost of producing that little strip of celluloid in Italy, where it was made, was fifteen million lire! Figured in our own coin, that amounts as you know, to a little over three million dollars—nearly half the cost of your magnificent building. Two years were consumed in the making of that bit of film. The number of people employed before the forty cameras was 25,000. Twenty gigantic sets, reproducing forums, amphitheatres, palaces, pavilions and gardens, built of stone and marble, were constructed under the supervision of the architect of the Vatican. One of the largest factories in Italy was wholly occupied for over six months in making the arms and accoutrements, chariots, trappings and furnishings. And the finished output is a strip of celluloid.

Worth the outlay? Well, sir, come to our Roosevelt Theatre, relax comfortably in an easy cushioned seat and let Goldwyn's "Theodora" possess you. Then you tell us if it is worth the outlay. Cordially,

ASCHER'S ROOSEVELT THEATRE.

ALLIED CHIEFS ACT TODAY ON RUSSIA TRADE

English Plan to Deal with Soviet Wins.

BY HENRY WALES.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
CANNES, Jan. 5.—The estrangement between Great Britain and France was widened today when Prime Minister Lloyd George forced M. Briand to consent to a discussion of the world's financial and economic conditions before reparations at the supreme council meeting tomorrow.

Following his refusal to discuss the Anglo-French alliance suggested by M. Briand, Mr. Lloyd George insisted on an examination of the international situation before reparations were discussed. Germany to enforce payment of the reparations installments were discussed.

The solid support of Italy and the failure of the Japanese to back the French policy gave Mr. Lloyd George a smashing victory for English politics. The French had insisted that reparations be paid in gold marks ($125,000,000) as well as the February installment of reparations, were the same consideration of the supreme council and should have been placed on the agenda.

Career Supports England.
A group of the powers represented here, however, supported the British contention that world industry, including the rehabilitation of Russia and the reorganization of Germany, must be settled before the reparations can be settled.

Italy backed Great Britain solidly, and even Belgium failed to give France the support regarding reparations which it had expected.

The Japanese, although opposed to recognition of the soviets, hesitated to fight the Anglo-Italian program.

Must Give Germany Markets.
Mr. Lloyd George's thesis is a complete program for restoring pre-war economic and financial conditions everywhere, including Russia, and he contends that it must be offered to Germany as the means of its earning the wherewithal to pay the reparations. Germany cannot pay until it can sell foreign markets and conditions to cultivate and exploit, is the Anglo-Italian view.

The French attempted to stand pat on their original position that the Versailles treaty and the Paris accord constituted them reparations regarding the world of all else. They demanded that another guarantee be taken against Germany if it persists in defaulting on the January and February payments.

Will Discuss Russia First.
It has been decided that at the final meeting of the supreme council tomorrow at 11 o'clock in the morning, the discussion will include a report on the international consortium plan adopted at Paris last Saturday.

The discussion will include a report on the consortium plan adopted at Paris last Saturday. It is reported that the pound sterling is valued as the monetary unit for the $100,000,000 capital of the corporation.

Removes were current here today that Ambassador Harvey had received instructions from the state department in Washington to announce that the United States was prepared to enter the new financial corporation, substituting 12 1/2 per cent of the capital stock for $12,500,000.

Mr. Harvey was in the evening with Ambassador Hays, but the attaché of the latter tonight denied that any such instructions had been received from Washington.

$12,000 ROBBERY WHICH COST BANK PRESIDENT LIFE

The photo-diagram illustrates how bandits held up auto in which Maywood chief of police and bank president were escorting $12,000 pay roll. The robbers killed the bank president and wounded the chief of police.

day afternoon, terrorized two girl employees, took twenty fur coats valued at $12,000, loaded them in a machine and drove away.

Miss Emma Hood, 848 North Avers avenue, one of the employees, faintly when the bandits drew their revolvers. One of the trio held Glasser and Miss Vera Billick, 4718 North Springfield avenue, under the muzzle of his automatic pistol while his companions entered the storage vault, selected the most expensive garments, and carried them out to the machine.

"We'll kill you if you let a yell out of you," Glasser was warned as the bandits left.

"Some of the coats belonged to wealthy women living on the north side and were left here to be repaired," Glasser told police of the Town Hall station.

ROB SEVEN OF $4,400
Four men wearing masks and carrying revolvers held up seven men in the offices of Jacob Williams & Sons, junk dealers, 1855 South Canal street, at 9 o'clock last night and obtained jewelry and currency totaling $4,400.

From Isaac Williams, president of the company, they took a diamond ring valued at $2,500, a stud valued at $1,000, and $65 in cash. Ralph Lipsey, 6751 South Michigan avenue, lost a $500 ring, a $125 tie pin, and some money; L. H. Johnson, 4025 Drexel boulevard, 350; W. E. Gerlinger, Milwaukee, Wis., $80; Alexander Johnson, 290 South Canal street, $50, and A. H. Isaacson and J. C. Isaacson, both of 4712 North Sawyer avenue, $15 each.

"You tell the police and we'll come back and kill you," the bandits threatened.

WOMAN AIDS BANDITS
A woman assisted two bandits when they held up Richard Dockerton in his bird store at 5948 Stewart avenue and robbed him of $1,200.

The three pretended to be purchasers until they found Dockerton was alone in his store. Then the men drew revolvers, forced the proprietor against the wall and held him there while the woman bound his wrists and ankles with rope. Then they emptied the cash drawer and walked away.

Three colored men held up Louis Silverman in his grocery at 5154 Westworth avenue, and took $750 from him. Several women were in the store at the time.

Two colored bandits took a fur neckpiece and pocketbook from Miss Irene Jones, 453 East 65th street, and attempted to rob Miss Vera McCullen, 6034 Eberhart avenue. Miss McCullen screamed and frightened them away.

Another colored bandit knocked Miss Rosa Kuban, a maid at 4924 Grand boulevard, down with a revolver and took a $100 ring and $10.

Mrs. David Mobery, 2348 Indiana avenue, last night identified Edward Brown, 2551 West 21st street, as the man who had stopped her at 224 street and Indiana and extracted $9 from her. Hele bank.

BURGLARS IN EVANSTON
That an organized band of burglars is working in Evanston became known last night with a report to the police of the robbery of the home of John E. Warner, 422 Greenwood boulevard, while he and his wife and baby were visiting friends. The thieves broke open a window with a jimmy, took the baby's savings bank containing $50, and $300 worth of clothing.

Other homes broken into were the apartment of Mrs. John Trelease, 719 Foster street; the apartment of James B. Gascolone, in the same building.

ment. She is away from Evanston and the exact loss is not known. Police, however, estimate it at $3,000. From the Gascolone apartment cash and jewelry totaling $150 were taken. Nothing was missing from the Maxwell home.

"I brought some coils for a heating apparatus 'home recently,'" said Maxwell. "I suppose some thief saw me thought I was making liquor, and came looking for some."

ROB JOLIET JEWELER
While scores of persons were passing the door bandits slugged John G. Brehm, manufacturing jeweler in Joliet, and escaped with $2,000 in jewelry and $200 in cash. They overlooked diamonds valued at $30,000 in an open safe.

A truck containing $3,000 worth of cigars, belonging to Carlson Bros., tobacco merchants at 1466 Milwaukee avenue, was driven off by one of four men who forced the truck driver, Stanley Chaslewski, to get into their car, carried him for several blocks and then dumped him out.

Karelian Revolt Near End, Bolshevik Report
RIGA, Jan. 5.—[By the Associated Press.]—According to local Russian soviet sources the complete breaking up of the Karelian insurgent movement is now a matter of only a short time. The Bolsheviks, it is asserted, are capturing village after village and driving the insurgents toward the Finnish frontier.

TWO POLICEMEN SLAIN BY A MAN OUT ON PAROLE

New York, Jan. 5.—Every policeman in New York is under orders to bring in "dead or alive" Luther Boddy, a 19-year-old colored man who tonight killed two detectives. His victims were Detective Sergeant William A. Miller and Detective Francis J. Buckley.

The man hunted, known as a "cop fighter," was out on parole. He shot a colored policeman several weeks ago, was sentenced to Blackwell's island for a holdup, but was soon released.

Two holdup men robbed a white rent collector and killed his colored guard early this evening. Boddy was suspected. Miller and Buckley arrested him and were taking him toward the West 125th street station. Suddenly the prisoner stepped back and fired two shots at Miller, who fell to the sidewalk. Buckley had just drawn his revolver when the man fired at him and he, too, fell.

Prohibition Favored by Hotel Men, President Says

Although prohibition has probably kept hotels from reducing the rates on rooms, nevertheless it is welcomed by hotel men, because there is less trouble with guests who drink. Conservative patrons are not disturbed at all hours of the night by carousals, and there has been a great saving on furniture. George T. Thompson, president, said yesterday at the meeting of the Illinois Hotel association.

DECLARES BURCH MADE A BID FOR INSANITY TRIAL

Alienist Brings Thrill in Murder Case.

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 5.—[Special.] That Arthur Burch, on trial for the murder of J. Belton Kennedy, said to him, "I want to be tried for insanity instead of murder, because I would rather spend ten years in an asylum than be hanged," was the high point in testimony today by Dr. Thomas Orblson, prosecution alienist, under cross-examination. Dr. Orblson declared he then told Burch he did not believe any commission in the world would find him insane.

Indignant at insinuations against his co-defendant, Madelyn Obenchain, Burch today rushed to her defense with a denial of the statement of a witness that Burch had said Mrs. Obenchain secretly had communicated with him in the county jail and had caused him to refuse to tell his movements the night of the slaying of Kennedy.

Burch Explains Silence.
"I never said that," he declared, "and she never communicated with me secretly. I refused to detail my movements because I did not believe it would be good policy to do so."

The testimony as to Burch's statement was regarded by District Attorney Woodchain as of great significance and indicative of a conspiracy between Burch and Madelyn.

In order to destroy this impression in the mind of the jurors, if such exists, the defense attorneys wish to call Mrs. Obenchain for brief testimony as to the alleged secret message, but it is believed her counsel will not permit this.

May End Testimony Today.
Probability that taking of testimony would be closed today was lessened by the exhaustive cross-examination of prosecution alienist by Attorney Paul Schenck, who grilled them in much detail as to their qualifications as experts on mental disorders. His examination of the first, Dr. Orblson, indicated he would prolong the case until tomorrow night at least.

On direct examination Dr. Orblson had talked forty-five minutes. He asserted Burch was entirely sane and showed no symptoms of insanity.

"Does a sane man laugh at a murder charge?" asked Schenck, referring to Burch's smiling attitude throughout the trial.

The doctor countered this by saying that he had seen Burch appear very serious many times since his arrest.

WIFE FILES TWO SUITS WHEN LOVE BEGINS TO WANE

Jack Norman Woodington, son of the president of the United States Machine Company, was sued for separate maintenance, while his mother, Mrs. Ethel Woodington, was made defendant in a suit for $50,000 for alienation of affections, in two bills filed in the Superior court yesterday by the wife and daughter-in-law, Mrs. Rita Frances Woodington.

The two bills mark the end of a romance which began shortly after the war, culminating in an elopement to Waukegan on March 30, 1921. Mrs. Woodington, who is the daughter of J. W. Winbur, a merchant tailor, with offices in the Mailers building, charges her husband deserted her at the solicitation of his mother. It is charged that the elder Mrs. Woodington has arranged for her son to make a protracted tour of Europe to forget his wife.

WOMAN'S DREAM REVEALS INCOME TAX FRAUD PLAN

Dreams that came in the night to Mrs. Rose Reiter, assistant chief of the alien income tax bureau of the internal revenue department, in the past have been forgotten in the rush of the day's activities.

But Wednesday night Mrs. Reiter saw in a dream a man who was intending to return to Europe. He had come into her office to get a passport. But something warned her the man was planning to defraud the government on his income tax returns. However, when she awakened, the whole thing was soon forgotten.

Yesterday a man entered Mrs. Reiter's office who appeared familiar. He wanted a passport to Poland. Then Mrs. Reiter remembered her dream. After a little detective work she induced Anthony Prolasewski, 720 West Liberty street, to admit he had made fraudulent tax returns. He paid the money due in addition to a penalty and received his passport.

BANK LOOTER SENTENCED.

L. W. HILL QUILTS 1 POST; DEPOSED FROM ANOTHER

Resigns from Northwest ern Trust Company.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 5.—Louis W. Hill, chairman of the Great Northern railway, deposed today as president of the United Securities company, resigned tonight as director of the Northwestern Trust company, marking another step in the controversy over settlement of the $12,000,000 estate of the late Mrs. James J. Hill, widow of the "Empire Builder."

Both the securities company and the trust company are controlled by heirs of Mrs. Hill. The securities company is the holding corporation for about $6,000,000 worth of real estate and securities from the estate of James J. Hill, while the trust company is one of the largest financial institutions in the northwest.

Seven Against Two.
Seven of the nine sons and daughters of Mrs. Hill are seeking appointment of the Northwestern Trust company as administrator of Mrs. Hill's estate, while Louis W. Hill, opposing them, has petitioned for his appointment as administrator and is backed by one sister, Mrs. Mary S. Hill of Washington, D. C.

Mr. Hill's resignation as a director of the Northwestern Trust company came after his reflection to that post by a meeting of shareholders. Earlier in the day C. P. Brown Jr. also resigned as director and vice president of the trust company.

Charitable Bequests Remains.
Hearing will be held Jan. 27 in Probate court here on the applications for appointment of administrator for Mrs. Hill's estate, conservatively estimated at $12,000,000.

It was announced today by representatives of the heirs opposing L. W. Hill that none of the religious or charitable gifts made by Mrs. Hill would be attacked in the courts.

FINED FOR HALTING TRAFFIC.
Hyman Endless, 730 Maxwell street, a chauffeur, was fined $5 and costs in the South Clark street court yesterday for blocking traffic and refusing to move when ordered to do so by a policeman.

Hoarded

POLICE yesterday found the money that bandits were seeking when they shot and fatally wounded Carl Freund, 70 years old, a harness maker, in his establishment at 1225 West 14th street late Wednesday night.

With a bullet in his abdomen the aged man fought the two robbers until they fled. He was taken to the county hospital by police of the Maxwell street station. Surgeons there told him he could not live.

"Then see that my relatives get my money—it's in my mattress and my trunk," he begged before he died yesterday morning.

In the mattress the police found $20, a bill, a heavy chain and padlock on the trunk, they found it partially filled with silver coins, nickels, and pennies and a few small bills. Several policemen counted coins for an hour to learn the total, $1,392.

The money was turned over to the public administrator while a search is made for a sister of the murdered man, who until six months ago lived across the street from him.

North Side Invaded by "Black Smallpox"
Smallpox of the confluent type, commonly referred to as "black smallpox," of which there have been fourteen cases on the south and southwest sides of the city, invaded the north side yesterday. The fifteenth case is that of Fred Walk, 6242 Wayne avenue.

LIQUOR TOTER FINED.
James Winkler, 65 years old, 3025 Alport street, was fined $100 and costs yesterday in the Maxwell street court for possessing his liquor.

WHERE FARES GO ON THE "L"

In order that the public may have correct information on the financial conditions of the Elevated Railroads, the following facts pertaining to rates of fare and profits of the companies are presented herewith:

The average rate of fare paid on the Elevated Railroads for nine months, ended September 30, 1921, was $0.0928 per passenger carried. That average includes the Evanston division, on which an extra fare is charged north of the city limits. The average fare in the city proper is fractionally lower.

How that fare was apportioned among the various items entering into the cost of giving the public transportation service is shown by the following figures:

Labor	$0.0525
Materials	0.0071
Power	0.0078
General and Miscellaneous	0.0050
Replacement Reserve	0.0027
Taxes	0.0071
Rentals	0.0022
	$0.0844

Average Fare.....$0.0928
Operating Costs.....0.0844

Left for Return on Investment.....$0.0084

This return on investment is at the rate of 2.73 per cent per annum on the valuation of $86,250,000 placed upon the Elevated Railroads by the Public Utilities Commission in January, 1921, after an appraisal of the properties. The return is less than the rate of interest paid on savings accounts in banks.

MCCORMICK TELLS EUROPE THE WAY BACK TO NORMAL

Must Reduce Armies and Get to Producing.

Senator McCormick emphasized the importance of the government's efforts to aid the European nations to regain their pre-war industrial and economic status. He said that the government's policy of retrenchment and reduction of expenditures was the only way to bring about a return to normalcy. He pointed out that the government had been successful in reducing the national debt and in bringing about a return to normalcy in the domestic economy. Blamed for Policeman's Death

Mrs. Josephine Groh and her husband, David Groh, on trial charged with causing the death of a policeman who tried to arrest them in their automobile a year ago.

Fate to Jury Soon

Testimony was heard yesterday in Judge Harry Fisher's court by which David Groh, head of a detective agency at 68 West Washington street, and his wife, Josephine, were responsible for the death of South Park policeman Michael Collins, who sought to arrest them a year ago at Garyfield boulevard, and Ashland avenue.

It is the contention of Assistant State's Attorney Samuel Bristol that when the policeman jumped on the running board of their automobile the car was driven in a zigzag manner intended to shake him off. The defendants claim the policeman fell off accidentally.

D. D. Quinn, 5733 South Peoria avenue, was the principal witness for the state. Groh's automobile passed him at fifty miles an hour, he testified. It had first collided with a street car, he said, but Groh had not stopped. He saw the policeman leap on the running board and later found Collins lying on the street, he declared. Mr. and Mrs. Groh testified, he said.

It is expected the case will be given the jury tonight.

note that it contemplates within the next two year period the reduction of the national taxes in the sum of nearly $1 billion a year.

"As the inescapable fixed charges—that is, the service of the national debt, pensions, maintenance of hospitals, and war insurance—aggregate over two billions a year, you will realize that, alone among the national governments of the world, yours bids fair to resume by the end of the year 1922 the pre-war rate of current expenditure for governmental purposes.

"You who are business men for the most part, or whose profession holds you in contact with business or men of business, know something of the difficulties of retrenchment, but I venture that no private enterprise was tempted to the profrugality of expenditure which marked the government during the war. Let me remind you that during the war some six billions were spent in the manufacture of aircraft, ammunition, and artillery, and that for this vast sum less than 200 American made planes or 200 American made cannon ever went into action on the fighting front.

Points to Vast Expenditures. Let me recall that some $3,500,000,000 was appropriated to the shipping board, for which only one American vessel built by the shipping board ever carried any American troops to fight in Europe. Let me note that $1,500,000,000 was voted the railroad administration, with results familiar to all of you. Let me conclude that $11,000,000,000 was lent to European powers.

"These sums aggregate twenty-two billions, as against a national debt of twenty-six billions."

Senator McCormick pointed out that although exports exceed imports by $2,000,000,000 during 1921, our foreign trade decreased nearly 50 per cent.

"Despite this array of economic facts, thousands of our countrymen, struggling against the world-wide current of depression, naturally have failed, first, to appreciate the formidable program of legislation written on the statute books by congress, and second, have not yet seen that the malady is world-wide, that fundamentally it is due to the destruction of wealth, to the failure to produce wealth and to exchange goods, and that its fundamental cure can be effected, not by statute, but by the resumption of the production and exchange of goods.

Steps to Remedy Condition. "We have done and we are doing what we can in congress. Three measures of far reaching importance to the farmers of the United States have been passed. We have passed an immigration act to check the inflow of hands at a time of widespread unemployment, the veterans' act to care for those injured in the great war, three measures intended wholly or in part to encourage the export trade and to find abroad a market for our surplus goods, and the budget act, under which Gen. Dawes, a member of this club, is rendering in time of peace a service to his countrymen comparable with the inestimable service he rendered during the war. The measures constituted the most important aspect of the program of the special session.

"Like them, the program for the regular session before us comprises bills primarily of an economic character. These are:

"The permanent tariff bill.

"A bill to permanently establish the American merchant marine.

"A bill to make good our debt to the nation's defenders.

"A bill for the business reorganization of the executive departments.

"A bill for the further revision and reduction of internal taxation.

"A bill to encourage the settlement of the remaining public domain by soldiers of the late war, and bills for the adoption of the first budget of appropriations under the new act.

Nation Must Play Its Part. "It is true that with the varied resources and needs of over a hundred million people inhabiting a country continental in its extent, we Americans, if need be, can live unto ourselves. That is not to our advantage. We wish to play our part in the world and more especially in the reconstruction of the life of the old world, stricken by the war.

"The part which we play cannot be determined by ourselves alone. The states of the old world, associated with us in the war, our enemies in the war, and neutral during the war, must play their part. It is to us that all of them, old enemies and old friends alike, must look whether for the extension of old or the establishment of new credits.

"There are as many men under arms today in the victorious states, and in those new born or new grown as the result of the allied victories, as there were in the central empires eight years ago. This was true when I returned from Europe last year at this time. It is true today. There are twice as many men in the armies of France at this hour as there were before the outbreak of the great conflict in 1914.

"I had hoped—I had almost believed—that the year 1921 would witness a sharp curtailment of the armies of those half dozen European states which in the spirit seem embittered still.

Hopes for Curtailment. "Although in some of its aspects, and through no fault of ours, the conference at Washington gives little heart to those who have been sanguine enough to believe that continental Europe must turn its feet back along the road toward disarmament, we still hope.

"We must hope or else despair of the resurrection of all that was best in the old civilization of Europe."

STEEL INDUSTRY BOOMS IN CITIES AT FOOT OF LAKE

Hammond, Ind., Jan. 6.—[Special.]—A decided change has come over the East Chicago-Indiana Harbor industrial district since the holidays. Producers report a large number of orders and increase in operations when the plants reopened Monday and Tuesday.

The Inland Steel company's output jumped from 40 to 50 per cent and further increases are expected. All of the No. 1 side of the Inland mills are operating this week. The sheet mills, which were completely shut down during the holidays, are again running full. In addition the bar plate, sheet and 24 inch mills are running. The productive departments of the General American Tank Car corporation, closed down during the Christmas holidays, started work yesterday. The "nine-eighteen" and bushing mills of the Republic Iron and Steel company continued work Monday. The Steel and Tube company, shut down for New Year's, returned to work Monday on an 80 per cent basis. The Edward Valve and Manufacturing company, closed down temporarily, is expected to resume operation the middle of the month.

MISS BAKER TO LEAVE FOR WEST; DATE UNCERTAIN

"Somewhere" First Stop;
California Next.

Peace and quiet and contentment—a long, long rest—and orange blossoms in the spring—these were the plans of Mary Landon Baker yesterday.

Miss Baker will leave Chicago probably within the next few days. She will slip quietly away to go "somewhere" with friends; later she will go to sunny California.

To London in Spring.

She will stay on the coast until the sun shines warm in England. When that time comes she will go to Allister McCormick in London, where she will be married to him.

Mary Landon Baker says she will not again leave him "waiting at the church" when that time comes.

"My sister has no exact plans, she is very indefinite," said Mrs. Robert W. Curtis, 220 East Walton place, yesterday. "We do not know when she will leave Chicago, but it probably will be within the next few days. Mary is not the sort of a girl who makes plans or maps out a program. Everything is subject to her instant decision."

Mr. Curtis, at the office of his father-in-law, Alfred L. Baker, to whom he is secretary, also stated that no member of the family could foretell at what moment Miss Baker might leave Chicago or where she might go before she goes to California.

Allister McCormick.

In the meantime Mrs. L. Hamilton McCormick stated that her son will have at once for New York, where he will sail alone for England. He will occupy the stateroom reserved for the honeymoon.

Allister McCormick will go to the home of his brother, Edward, at St. George's Hill, Waybridge, England. He expects Miss Baker to join him a few months hence in the London home of Edward McCormick, for it is there that Miss Baker has stated she will go to him and be married to him.

ASPHYXIATED.

James T. Jones, an inmate of the Oak Forest prison, was found dead in a cell today at 11 South Sangamon street yesterday. Three days ago he obtained a pass to "home."

CHICAGO BOARD OF EDUCATION.

At the recent meeting of the Chicago board of education, the most frequently heard has been the taxpayers' money, many of the present board members have been heard to say that the board is doing a good job, but that the taxpayers' money is being wasted.

What sum did this, Mayor Board of education save the money it voted unanimously, to the effect that the board of education should not spend more than $100,000 for the year 1922.

Mayor Thompson's board of education is endeavoring to limit a minority member with a cause she dared to oppose and indefensible use of the money.

Having economy, and respect for the tax-payers' money, the board of education is endeavoring to limit a minority member with a cause she dared to oppose and indefensible use of the money.

First Showing of the

New Cotton Fabrics

TO view the display of new Cotton Fabrics is to marvel at their wealth of color, unusual weaves, and novel designs. Fashion places her stamp of approval on Voiles, Ratines, Linens, Organdies, white materials, and Gingham.

Dress Linens, $1.25 to $2.25 the yard

From France and Belgium come these Linens, the first showing in several years. Colors are many and rich, the weight and weaves varying.

Ratines, 75c to $3.50 a yard

There are Ratines in plain and fancy weaves, in every imaginable color; also checks, stripes, and heather weaves. Home-spun, an imported novelty, has alternating colors in the threads. Eponge in a wide assortment of colors.

Novelty Voiles, $1.25 to $10 the yard

From Rodier and other leading manufacturers come Voiles in the newest and most intricate designs and color combinations. Also embroidered Voiles and Organdies from St. Gall, printed Voiles of unusual design from Great Britain, and novelty embroidered and printed Voiles.

Dotted Swisses, $1.35 to $2 yard

A brilliant display of Dotted Swisses includes those of new effects, contrasting the dots with the color of the fabric; also are many bright colored grounds with white dots. Their usual crispness makes them as desirable as ever.

English Prints, 55c, 65c and 75c yard

Quaint designs and color combinations recall colonial fabrics, but this gayly colored material is much in demand for new clothes. "Chintz Prints"—gay and bright, is used in combination with other materials. 55c, 65c, and 75c the yard.

"Lockerbie" Gingham, $1 yard

Made in Scotland for Marshall Field and Company, come in attractive checks and plaids—an excellent quality Gingham. Domestic and imported Gingham 40c to $1.25.

Smart New White Goods

Novelty Organdies for dresses and blouses come in hemstitched and shadow designs—a gossamer and summery fabric. $3 to $4. Embroidered Voiles and Organdies in white are fresh and cool. Yd., $1 to $2.50.

Skirtings and Suitings come in Ratine, Eponge, Basket Cloth, and Pique—plain and novelty weaves. 75c to $2.50 the yard.

Also Dimities, Lawns and Batistes

Second Floor, Middle, State.

Misses' Fur-trimmed Coats Special, $37.50 and $65

SMART Winter Coats with fur trimmings have been in previous seasons almost unheard of at such low prices. At this time when Winter has scarcely begun such exceptional values are extraordinary.

At $37.50—The Coat sketched has deep collar of wolf. Others at this price have mole or Australian opossum collar.

At $65—The Coats sketched are of alonzo bolivia and evora, with wolf collar and cuffs or collars of squirrel and beaver.

HARDING FIGHTS FARM BLOC PLAN FOR BANK BOARD

Clash Near as Senators
Visit White House.

BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.
Washington, D. C., Jan. 5.—(Special.)—An open clash between President Harding and the agricultural bloc in the senate appears imminent as a result of an effort today by Mr. Harding to check legislation, backed by the bloc, to place a "dirt farmer" on the federal reserve board.

The long brewing differences between the administration and the bloc were brought to a head at a conference at the White House between the President and Senator Kenyon of Iowa, chairman of the bloc, and Senator Capper of Kansas and Senator Kellogg of Minnesota, prominent members of the organization.

The senate, under a unanimous consent agreement entered into several weeks ago, is scheduled to vote on Jan. 17 on the bill designed to give the farmers a greater influence in the federal reserve banking system. The bill as reported by the senate banking and currency committee, merely requires the President, in appointing members of the federal reserve board, to exercise "due regard for a fair representation of the different agricultural, commercial, industrial, and geographical divisions of the country."

Back Substitute Measure.

The agricultural bloc, or at least some of its more aggressive members, wants the appointment governed by more specific terms, and is backing a substitute measure which would plainly require the President, in filling the next vacancy on the board, to appoint a farmer "experienced in agriculture."

The bloc is seeking the scalp of W. F. G. Harding, governor of the federal reserve board. His term expires next August. He has incurred the bitter hostility of the bloc, members of which contend that he has not been liberal enough in the extension of credits to farmers.

Objects to Coercion.

The President is not worrying so much about the retention of Gov. Harding at the head of the national banking system as he is about the apparent attempt of the agricultural bloc to compel him to appoint a representative of their own interests on the federal reserve board. In his conference with Senators Kenyon, Capper, and Kellogg today he reminded them that he has long been committed to the principle of appointing agricultural representatives on all important governmental boards and agencies. What he objects to, he indicated, is class legislation aimed to tie his hands and leave him no discretion in making the appointment to fill the next vacancy on the federal reserve board.

The senators gained the impression that he preferred to have an entirely free hand in the matter, but that he would have no objection to general legislation empowering him to appoint an additional member of the board, without naming the class from which the appointee should be selected.

MAJ. OPIE 'NEVER FIRED REVOLVER IN WHOLE WAR'

Accused Officer Answers Watson Charges.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 5.—Sweeping denial of charges that he had shot two of his men while his command, part of the 29th division, was in the thick of the Argonne fighting, was made before a senate investigating committee today by Maj. Homer L. Opie of Staunton, Va., and nearly a dozen men serving with him overseas. At an all day session only one voice was lifted against Maj. Opie—the voice of a shell shocked victim of war, now a patient in a Virginia hospital for the insane. The witness, Lemuel C. Smith, declared that while in a dugout with three comrades and four German prisoners Maj. Opie entered, shot and killed a soldier, then ordered the body removed without once uttering a word.

Comrades Defend Officer.

In rapid succession the comrades mentioned by Smith went on the stand and swore they saw no such killing, that they knew of no evidence whatever to support the charges. And then after half a dozen of Maj. Opie's men had testified that they never heard of his shooting a soldier in France or anywhere else, the major himself spoke in his own defense, declaring there was no word of truth in the accusations and that he "never shot a man in his life."

Breaking down while witnesses were telling the committee that for his services in the Argonne offensive, ending in a hospital, wounded, he was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross, the Legion of Honor, and the Croix de Guerre, with two palms, Maj. Opie quickly recovered his composure and calmly, but with great emphasis, asserted that he never fired a revolver all the time he was in the army.

How He Stopped a Riot.

Maj. Opie explained in detail how he had attempted to get his men in a line after they had been demoralized and were running wildly, some saying they had been ordered to retreat, while others were shouting that the enemy was approaching. A tense situation, developing suddenly, found him alone in the effort to reform the lines. At the moment he was without side arms, was wearing a raincoat, the insignia on which was covered with mud, and it was with difficulty that he could make the men halt.

"I took a rifle and fired twice," he said, "knowing perfectly well what I was doing. One shot was fired in the air and one in the ground. Nobody was hit. After I fired the lines stopped, and I got them in shape, putting men I recognized in command. I sent runners to bring all the men up. There was not a dead soldier on the line and there had been no firing."

Possible Origin of Rumors.

Chairman Brandegee wanted to know if Maj. Opie had any theory as to how the reports about him had started.

"None, sir," he said. "It may be that one circumstance led to it. I dislike to mention names, but it might be the only thing to do in justice to others. It happened that Lieut. Floyd W. Cunningham accidentally killed himself with a rifle and I was the first to reach him. I bent down, opened his blouse, and while there alone in that position some stragglers may have been around. I sometimes think this scene may have started rumors of which I was the victim."

Senator Willis, Republican, Ohio, questioned Maj. Opie regarding the testimony of Henry L. Scott of Kenmore, O., that he saw the major shoot a runner.

"It is deliberately untrue," the major declared.

Senator Willis said he merely desired to get the major's denial in the record.

Watson Keeps Silent.

Senator Watson, Democrat, Georgia, whose charges in the senate that American soldiers had been hanged without trial in France led to the senate hearing, took no part in the examination of Maj. Opie or his witnesses. But at the close of the session Senator Watson presented a list of witnesses to be summoned to give testimony relating to the Opie charges.

The committee indicated that they would be called when the hearing is resumed next Tuesday. Eight letters from former men in Maj. Opie's command, and from citizens who know him were also presented.

Request was made by the major's counsel that the superintendent of the hospital at which Smith is a patient be summoned, in view of the understanding of counsel that other hospital patients were coming forward with letters. Chairman Brandegee said the superintendent would be called.

"BEST WIFE"

MRS. EMILY GREAR HORN.
(TRIBUNE Photo.)

AFTER the Horns had tossed away their hammers yesterday in the Morals court, Judge Arnold, 254 North Clark street, "There are some men who are too jealous of their wives. You're one of them. You say you want to win back her love. Change your habits of thought. My advice is to check your jealousy on the front porch hereafter when you go home at night."

The wife, Mrs. Emily Grear Horn, now a cabaret singer, was arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct. The husband named Arthur Hess, 2218 Cullem Avenue, a former roomer at the Horn home.

"I saw them shimmingy together," he testified.

"I left him because he threatened to shoot the whole family," said Mrs. Horn.

"She's the best wife a man ever had and I want her back," said Hess.

"The pardon came too late. Discharged," said the judge.

MEDILLIANS TOLD OF WAR GROWTH OF NEWSPAPERS

By putting a burden of taxation on the people the war focused the mind of the world on finance and stimulated an unusual growth in the "business newspaper," said Glenn Griewold, financial editor of the Chicago Journal of Commerce, speaking last night at the Medill School of Journalism.

"Discussion of economic matters has been transferred from the banker's office to the breakfast table," he said. Mr. Griewold gives the following rules, in order of their importance, for the success of a business newspaper: Have as much statistical data as possible; be accurate; make business news readable.

"Adam and Eve" in Court; Snake and Apple Absent

Frank S. Pyne, Toronto, Canada, who says his father was a first cousin to Field Marshal Roberts of England, and Mrs. Dorothy Doran, Detroit, Mich., appeared yesterday in the Morals court following their arrest at the Hotel Sherman. Pyne was fined $25 and costs. Mrs. Doran was told to return to Detroit. Mrs. Doran had little to say as the tears streamed down her cheeks. "It's the old story, your honor. The woman is silent, but Adam says Eve tempted him," said State's Attorney Frank Souhrada.

CITIZEN BOARD ANSWERS LEGAL SALLY OF LABOR

Argument on the petition of the carpenters' district council for an injunction to restrain the citizens' committee to enforce the Landis award was that of the Lindahl-Frantzen company, which was visited by a representative of the citizens' committee Dec. 6. The affidavit said that before the visit conditions between the employer and the carpenters had been amiable, but after the visit the contractor, afraid that his bank credit would be shut off, was impelled to discharge his union employees.

Another affidavit set up that the Barrett company, erecting buildings for the Plothe-Grosby company, was forced to discharge union carpenters when they were threatened with a stoppage of credit for not living up to the Landis schedule.

The answer of the citizens' committee declared that "through violence, intimidation, and other unlawful coercion said unions and said district council acquired complete control of the carpenters' trade and of the employment of carpenters in Chicago."

"The complainants," it said, "have engaged in picketing, intimidation, violence, boycotting, and other unlawful acts and practices in furtherance of the policies and demands of the complainants and of the local unions."

Said complainants and the union of which they are members have wrongfully interfered with and imposed unlawful restrictions upon the employment of carpenters, joiners, etc., and upon the use and installation of material in Chicago and vicinity. I further charged the carpenters' union with being "a repeated contract breaker," and it cited instances of strikes in violation of existing agreements. Arbitrary restrictions by the carpenters' union, the answer declared, were at least partly responsible for excessive cost of buildings.

Teamsters' Strike Off; Compromise Effected

The strike of 2,500 members of the Excavating, Grading and Asphalt Teamsters' union, called last Wednesday morning in protest against a contemplated wage cut, was declared off last night by J. W. Flynn, secretary of the teamsters' organization. A compromise was effected.

"LABOR'S SHARE" IN FACTORY MADE WEALTH GAINS

Report Shows Eight Point
Increase in Five Years.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

"Labor's share" in the net wealth created by manufacturing operations in the United States increased a shade less than 1 per cent in the five years between 1914 and 1919, according to calculations from figures issued last night by the bureau of the census. The report is preliminary and subject to revision, but it affords an interesting line on the mad chase of prices and wages around the circle during the inflation period up to a point a few months short of the "peak" in early 1920.

From the tables it appears that: In 1919, of the value of products added by manufacture, 42.1 per cent went for wages. In 1914, of the value added by manufacture, 41.3 went to the wage earners. In 1909 it was 40.2 per cent, in 1904 it was 41.5 per cent, in 1899 41.8 per cent.

As to salaried employees, their part amounted to 11.5 per cent in 1919, as against 13 per cent in 1914, 11 per cent in 1909, and about 9 per cent in 1904.

10,815,883 Factory Workers. The preliminary figures of the 1920 census of manufacturers show that in 1919 the United States had 290,111 manufacturing establishments, which gave employment during the year to an average of 10,815,883 persons, of whom 9,098,119 were wage earners, 1,447,781 were salaried employees, and 270,003 were proprietors and firm members.

These manufacturing establishments paid $10,545,905,000 in wages and $12,882,046,000 in salaries and turned out products with a selling value at the factory of $62,427,825,000. In producing them, materials to the value of $17,580,124,000 were used.

The value added by manufacture, or the difference between the cost of materials and the total value of products, was $25,047,701,000, and this is generally taken as the figure best representing the net wealth created by manufacturing operations. Here is one line on how the wage earner left the white collar salary man at the post: The number of salaried employees increased 50 per cent and the amount paid in salaries increased 124.6 per cent. The average number of wage earners increased 29.3 per cent and the aggregate amount of wages increased 154.8 per cent.

Wages About Doubled. As to average wages, 9,098,119 wage earners got $10,545,905,000 in 1919, which was an average of about $1,169 a year. In 1914, 7,036,247 wage earners got $4,073,332,000, which was an average of about $582 a year. Thus the average wage in manufacturing establishments just about doubled during the period—it ran almost neck and neck with the increase in cost of living up to the end of 1919 as indicated by the government's index number. Similarly, the average pay of all salaried employees in manufacturing establishments was $1,999 in 1919, as against $1,335 in 1914. While average wages increased about 100 per cent, average salaries increased about 49 per cent, meanwhile cost of living at the end of 1919 was 99.3 per cent higher than in 1913.

Mrs. Vita Shoemaker, wife of Lieut. Gilbert A. Shoemaker, aviator and parachute jumper, 1029 North Sacramento avenue, sailed into two "tough guys" yesterday who were beating a small and elderly conductor on a Broadway car. The hoodlums fled before the shower of blows from dainty but deadly fists. A dozen men passengers viewed the contest without moving. They didn't need to after Mrs. Shoemaker declared herself in on the festivities.

PLAY "JAZZ" GR LOAF, MUSICIANS' CHOICE, THEY SAY

Don't blame the saxophone player if your daughter toddles to his syncopated jazz. It's not his fault; he's just giving the public what it wants. Ralph J. O'Hara, business agent of the Chicago Federation of Musicians, scanned the statements of Mrs. Marx Obendorfer at the Tuesday session of the board meeting of the Federation of Women's clubs on the immorality of music and took up the defensive cudgels for his musicians.

"It's the society people on the 'Drive' and the debutantes," O'Hara insisted, "who are the strongest for the jazz. Musicians themselves don't care what they play; but naturally they play what they're told to."

"Every director has classic and jazz pieces in his repertoire. But if he'd refuse to play jazz, only the classic stuff he wouldn't get hired, that's all. If a charge of immorality can be made against jazz music it can also be made against the dances at these swell social functions."

Members of the federated clubs, meeting at the Drake hotel yesterday, "let it out" in discussing the disarmament conference and other weighty matters to visit the Elizabeth McCormick memorial at 848 North Dearborn street, where Mrs. Ira Couch Wood, director of the child welfare department of the clubs, showed them an exhibit.

THE CHILDREN AND GEORGE WASHINGTON

More Entries in the Race for $11,650 in The Tribune's Prizes for School Children and Teachers.

Here are more of the essays by boys and girls entered in the George Washington prize contest being conducted by The Tribune. The contest closes on Washington's birthday, Feb. 22.

Studious and Truthful.

I am pleased to have the opportunity to write an essay on the life of so noble a man as George Washington. I am always glad when our history class takes up the life of Washington. In his boyhood and youth he was studious, ambitious, religious, and truthful. He availed himself of the opportunities given him by his parents and school which gave him the foundation of his noble life. He was attentive to his early training at home and at school.

A man of character, a brave warrior winning many battles, he gave to our country a great number of opportunities. We were given an opportunity to vote for an honest man when he was chosen and nominated by the people for the first President of the United States. He did not seek political favor and he was willing to serve the people for their own good. He was elected in 1789, served his first term, was re-elected in 1793.

He gave to the people of this country freedom which is the greatest opportunity that can be given a country.

Washington's life was a life of high standard. An example for boys and girls to aim for. Washington sought opportunities and made opportunities for the American people. We should show our appreciation of him on Feb. 22 of each year by pausing and thinking of his great life.

Washington was born in Westmoreland, Va., Feb. 22, 1732. Died 1799 which was a great loss to our country.

JAMES MINAR KISER,
7514 Yates avenue, Chicago.
Age 14, Grade 8, Myra Bradwell school.
Teacher, Miss Krimbel.

Friend of the Soldier.

The name of Washington and the early history of our country are almost inseparable. His military genius led the country out of the chaos of war and his true patriotism led him to make a firm foundation for the republic. He drafted the chart by which the country was guided.

He was not ambitious. He gained many battles but always resigned his command as soon as he was no longer needed. He was a friend of his soldiers and they would have followed him gladly if he had wished to set up a monarchy, but he spurned power and the crown.

In assemblies he was usually silent, but when he spoke he spoke forcibly and convincingly. He did not have the power of captivating oratory, but his calm and steady judgment won men's support and confidence by appealing to their best and noblest aspirations.

He was ever watchful of the people's rights. His foresight was marvelous and planned not only the progress but the permanence of the republic. He did not have a narrow view of the government. The present was not his sole concern, but the future was his constant anxiety. He blazed the path of liberty. He laid the foundation of a united republic whose domains and power, liberty, and freedom were the admiration of the world.

11 YEAR SEARCH FOR 'SALESMAN' ENDS IN SOUTH

Nation-wide search conducted for eleven years by postal inspectors came to an end at Gulfport, Miss., last night in the arrest by government officials of J. A. Delaney, formerly of Chicago, for using the mails to defraud.

Ever since he jumped bonds here in 1910, while under indictment for fraud perpetrated through the mails, Delaney, known as the "ace of confidence men," has been trailed by postal inspectors.

Served Prison Term.

Through every state in the union he has led government officers—always "one jump ahead." During the chase one postal inspector died just as he was ready to make the arrest. Shortly afterwards, Delaney fell into the hands of police of Dallas, Tex., the outcome of which was eighteen months in Leavenworth.

Certain that Delaney would be caught as he left the penitentiary, Inspector Frank M. Davis of the local division, sent a United States marshal to arrest him as he left the prison. But by a ruse Delaney again foiled federal officers.

He was next heard of in Texas; married to a woman of distinction. Later word came he was "traveling over the country with his family."

To Be Tried for Old Offenses.

According to Inspector Davis, through whose efforts Delaney was finally caught, he will be tried for offenses committed before 1910.

At the time of his indictment Delaney was charged with having defrauded Saddle Brothers, company of Bloomington, Ill., and the Harry M. Husk Shoe company of Chicago out of hundreds of dollars.

Delaney is said to have made $250,000 out of his various activities. He sold goods of every description, federal officials say—many of them of a bogus nature.

ROW IN COUNCIL FOLLOWS CHARGE OF 'RAKEOFFS'

Insinuations that in some instances real estate agents receive "rakeoffs" through the "padding" of coal and repair bills caused an argument, punctuated with desk pounding and fist shaking, between Ald. John H. Johntry and Terence F. Moran at yesterday's public hearing on the proposed heat ordinance.

ALD. TERENCE F. MORAN.

Johntry stirred up the hornets' nest by asking real estate men present if they had "ever heard of such a thing." This provoked Moran's ire and he berated Johntry for not taking the charges to the city sealer with a demand for an investigation.

Illiterate America

Our schools are overcrowded, undermanned. Children are getting half-time education. Teachers are overworked and underpaid. We are a nation of sixth-graders, with 25,000,000 illiterates to our discredit.

Who is to blame?

Not the teachers; not the school superintendents. The responsibility is in the public—in you!

What are you going to do about it? The schools need more money—for buildings, for teachers, for equipment—will you give it? The teachers need the parents' support—will you give it?

Charles A. Selden has written for THE LADIES' HOME JOURNAL a series that clearly outlines the trouble with our schools and points the remedy. Every man or woman in America who is interested in the education of our children should read the first article. It is one of nearly 40 features in the new January issue of Thrift means a higher standard of living without added expense, the dignity of serving oneself, and domestic independence.

One of a series of articles contributed by editorial writers of Chicago's leading newspapers, and others, evidencing their interest in domestic thrift and independence.

A Governor's Wife who does all her own housework—

YOU remember the story—quite a sensation in the daily papers.

She entertains, she pays her calls, she presides at club meetings—and does every bit of the cooking, cleaning and laundry work in a twenty-one room house.

Marvelous, of course, but most of us marvel, not so much at how she does it, but why she does it. A Governor's wife—the First Lady of the State! Why does she ever do such menial labor?

She doesn't. Housework isn't menial labor in this day and age. Electricity comprises a staff of servants, thoroughly trained and highly specialized. Electricity cleans the rugs, washes the dishes, irons the clothes, cooks the meals.

The housewife is House Manager. She has but to direct the work of the force at her command.

COMMONWEALTH EDISON CO.

FORD'S WEEKLY MENACES CITY, COURT IS TOLD

City Lawyers Ask It Be Suppressed Here.

A document filed yesterday in the circuit court by attorneys for the city charges that Percy W. Johnson, local circulator of the Dearborn Independent, has conspired with Henry Ford, E. J. Liebold, and W. J. Cameron, concerned in the publication of the magazine to engage in propaganda against the Jews which "will prove disastrous" not only to the Jews, but to all citizens of the United States.

The document, written by First Assistant Corporation Counsel James W. Brown, is an answer to the bill for a permanent injunction filed by Johnson to restrain Chief Fitzmorris from prohibiting by police order the sale of the magazine in Chicago.

Make Other Charges.
Among other charges which the city makes and which it declares it stands ready to prove to the satisfaction of the court are:

That the Ford publication devotes its columns mainly to propaganda calculated to arouse race hatred and religious animosities.

That this propaganda "consists in a continuous and studied effort" to instill a feeling of hatred and contempt against the Jews.

Most Not Generate Hatred.

"This propaganda will affect disastrously and prejudicially all citizens and residents of the United States who enjoy civil liberties and who only enjoy such liberties as long as a spirit of toleration and mutual amity among the people continues and cannot possibly endure if religious hatred, race, and group antagonisms are generated, become life and assume the forms of public manifestations and demonstrations," the document states.

A temporary injunction against the sale, obtained by attorneys for Johnson, is now in force.

SANITARY BOARD ADOPTS BUDGET OF $19,389,384

$5,000,000 Bonds Also Authorized.

The sanitary district of Chicago will spend $19,389,384 during the coming year, according to the budget passed yesterday. A bond issue of $5,000,000 was also authorized and the rate of interest fixed at 5 per cent.

The amount specified in the budget is $70,000 less than that disbursed last year, due principally to a curtailment of the allotment to the engineering department by $789,000. Heavy increases for electricity and fixed charges, salary raises for the trustees, and the awarding of $37,000 additional to the law department almost offset this saving.

Pay Fixed at $7,500.
The legislature fixed the salary of trustees elected this year at $7,500. Those now serving are permitted to draw $2,500 in addition to their $5,000 yearly pay for "secretaries or stenographers."

Trustee Charles Sergel congratulated the board for the adoption of the budget system, but opposed fixing 5 per cent as the interest rate on the bonds. His motion to substitute 4 1/2 per cent was lost.

Trustee Mathias Mueller explained he had canvassed bond houses for the last two months and had reached the conclusion that to obtain par for the bonds 5 per cent was the lowest rate possible.

2,000 Made Homeless by Fire in English City

WEST HARTLEPOOL, England, Jan. 5.—Fire destroyed scores of homes, made 2,000 people homeless, and caused damage estimated at $1,000,000 (roughly $4,000,000), here today. The disaster added to the suffering of the city's many unemployed, of whom a considerable number lost all their possessions. Scores of buildings damaged by Germans during naval raids were destroyed.

FIREMEN LIVE MID ICY DRAFTS, COUNCIL IS TOLD

Passersby who dropped into a meeting of the council committee on municipal institutions yesterday might have thought that Ald. Ben S. Wilson and John H. Johnstony were describing conditions in Russia. They were only picturing conditions in Chicago fire stations.

"The conditions are terrible," insisted Wilson in demanding a survey of the sanitary conditions of every police and fire station in the city.

"It is so cold in some fire stations that the firemen almost freeze to death. The wind blows through the cracks in some of the tumble down fire houses endangering the lives of the firemen."

Windows Patched with Rags.

"At a station at 46th and Federal streets the toilet facilities couldn't stand a sanitary inspection," chimed in Johnstony. "The windows are stuffed with rags, there is one stove on the first floor and the second floor is like a barn."

"At a station at Cottage Grove avenue at 46th street the splinters in the floor are four inches long. At another station the firemen have been sleeping in a horse stable."

"In the manglers?" asked Ald. Toman.

In with the Horses.

"No," replied Johnstony wrathfully. "Right in the stable with the horses. And the roof leaks and the place is like an iceberg."

While this chilly debate was on, the committee room was so cold that Ald. Henry L. Fick, being bald, kept his hat on in spite of repeated requests that he take it off.

Ald. Johnstony and Wilson won their debate for a general investigation of conditions and a subcommittee was appointed to find a new home for the Morals court, now in the city hall, when Ald. Toman asserted that it is being made "a museum for roughnecks and rubbernecks."

DANGER OF MINE STRIKE SEEN IN WAGE CUT PLANS

Rumors of trouble that threatens a coal miners' strike gained weight yesterday when Illinois coal operators declared for an immediate reduction in wages and elimination of the check-off system.

Officials of the United Mine Workers of America have repeatedly warned that abolition of the check-off—the system under which union dues of miners are deducted from the pay—would result in a strike.

Not an Empty Threat.

That this was not an empty threat was evidenced early in November, when 30,000 miners in four central states walked out as a protest against the temporary injunction District Judge Anderson of Indianapolis issued against the check-off. The United States Court of Appeals later ruled that the practice objected to is legal.

The attitude of Illinois operators became known in connection with a telegram sent yesterday to John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, following a joint meeting of the Illinois Coal Operators' association, the Operators' Association of the Fifth and Ninth Districts, and the Central Illinois Coal Operators' association.

This telegram protested against Lewis' action in calling off a joint conference, scheduled for today, at which operators and union representatives were to discuss a wage scale for 1922. The meeting, it is said, was called off when Pennsylvania and southern Ohio operators refused to take part. Reports indicate these operators intend to abolish the check-off system and to negotiate a wage scale directly with the workers.

Wants Parley at Once.

Despite this complication, the telegram insisted that a wage parley be arranged at once.

"Illinois operators," Rice Miller, president of the Illinois Coal Operators' association, said last night, "want a meeting at once, because they sincerely

THE BANK OF KINDNESS

Draw a Check on It for the Unfortunate.

BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON.

A boys' party was given last evening at the First Methodist Episcopal church.

Clark and Washington streets, in charge of Miss Helma Sutherland, a worker in various activities under the Chicago Church federation. Col. C. B. Adams, superintendent of the St. Charles School for Boys; Miss Mary Collins, superintendent of the Juvenile home; Mrs. Joseph Siman of the Bridewell; and Judge V. P. Arnold of the Juvenile court were guests with the boys at a dinner at 6:30.

Miss Sutherland has charge of all Protestant boys at the Juvenile court, teaches every Sunday 500 boys at the school at St. Charles, holds a weekly meeting for all the women at the Bridewell, and teaches classes at the Eye and Ear infirmary. The party last night was the fifth holiday party she has conducted. She sent or gave Christmas presents to 1,000 boys, those who are paroled to farmers throughout the state, as well as those in the institutions. Another young woman worker under the auspices of the Chicago Church federation is Miss Jennie Beardsley, who ministers to the girls in the Geneva school.

ly desire to obtain proper wage reductions at the earliest possible date. Illinois mines are largely idle because the operators on the present scale cannot compete with the various other producing fields where wage reductions have been forced or have been voluntarily granted by the miners in those districts.

"The present wage scale helps to maintain high coal prices. We want to see both reduced."

THEATER MAN TO SUE FOR ARREST IN ROBBERY CASE

Frank J. Tyrrell, attorney for Claude Boyd, treasurer of the Columbia theater, who was detained by the police following a robbery of the theater's safe, announced yesterday that his client would institute suit against certain police officers whom he accuses of being responsible for his stay in jail.

Mr. Boyd was released from custody Wednesday on a writ of habeas corpus by Judge David. Mr. Tyrrell charges that his client was manhandled by the police in a futile effort to make him confess that he had guilty knowledge of the robbery.

"The arrest of my client," said Mr. Tyrrell, "was ridiculous. He was the complaining witness in the case."

Globe First in Total Lines of Advertising During 1921

During the year 1921 the Globe printed a total of 11,870,888 lines of advertising, the greatest volume of any newspaper in Boston, and this in spite of the fact its advertising columns are so strictly edited that thousands of dollars' worth of advertising is rejected as unacceptable.

WHY

Do advertisers use more space in the Boston Globe than in any other Boston newspaper?

BECAUSE

Boston Globe advertising is productive advertising—because Boston Globe circulation is productive circulation.

It is a circulation that represents purchasing power—that reaches buyers as well as readers—a circulation that delivers 100% on every dollar spent for advertising.

Boston Globe First in Department Store Advertising

During the year 1921 the Globe printed 3,170,368 lines of department store advertising—leading the second Boston newspaper (having Daily and Sunday editions) by 441,577 lines.

LOCAL VIEWPOINT

The Globe carries more individual advertisements (display and classified) than all of the Boston papers (having Daily and Sunday editions) combined.

The viewpoint of the local advertisers—the department stores—is especially interesting. They judge newspapers by results. They are on the ground; they know newspaper values because they can check returns from day to day.

They Use More Space in the Globe Than in Any Other Boston Newspaper. On Sunday the Boston Globe Carries More Department Store Advertising Than All of the Other Boston Sunday Newspapers Combined.

Boston Globe First in Total Number Want and Classified Advertisements

During 1921 the Boston Globe printed 538,041 Want and Classified Advertisements. This was 465,763 more than were printed in the second Boston paper (having Daily and Sunday editions).

The Boston Globe, year in and year out, carries more Want and Classified advertising than all of the other Boston papers (having Daily and Sunday editions) combined.

Boston Globe First in Automobile and Accessory Advertising

During the year 1921 the Globe carried a total of 1,729,009 lines of Automobile and Accessory advertising, 1,016,103 more than the second Boston paper (having Daily and Sunday editions).

Boston Globe First in Real Estate Advertising

During the year 1921 the Globe printed 81,493 Real Estate advertisements. This was 67,166 more than were printed in the second Boston newspaper (having Daily and Sunday editions).

For immediate response—for reader-attention—for result-producing circulation—the Boston Globe has no equal in the New England field—a fact that is substantiated by its remarkable position in the great volume of advertising which it prints each year.

REMEMBER

The Globe circulation reaches not mere numbers, but readers—the kind of readers every advertiser wants to reach—readers vitally interested in every line of news and advertising printed in the paper which they read and on which they rely for their buying needs.

FIGURES SPEAK LOUDER THAN WORDS

The year just closed was a year of uncertainty, a trying year for business men everywhere. Every dollar they spent was weighed and measured more carefully than ever before. Each dollar was made to do its full duty.

And, of course, the advertising investment was more cautiously made. Straight out "selling" copy was the rule, and it reduced the test of media to sheer ability to sell merchandise.

In Chicago this test of selling ability resulted in a tremendous loss by every evening newspaper EXCEPT THE CHICAGO EVENING AMERICAN, which showed the only GAIN in advertising lineage during the year. Here are the figures for the year 1921:

The Evening American	(Gain)	532,225
The News	(Loss)	943,860
The Post	(Loss)	763,095
The Journal	(Loss)	636,603

Selling energy might accomplish a like result in normal times. But no amount of selling energy could make the Evening American GAIN in a test year like 1921, when EVERY ONE OF ITS COMPETITORS SHOWED STAGGERING LOSSES.

Only the proved ability of the Evening American to SELL THE MERCHANDISE and the growing recognition of that ability by both Local and National advertisers can account for such a record.

Here, Indeed, FIGURES Speak Louder Than WORDS

Mandel Brothers Introduce Springtime Modes for Palm Beach and for Northern Tween Seasons Wear

Parisian modes and American adaptations that will be worn by America's "fashion" at Palm Beach, Pasadena and other prominent winter resorts are richly represented in this exhibit—more fascinating, more varied than any we can recall. And many of these modes are perfectly adapted for wear here in the north, even now.

Black taffeta costume with crinoline foundation
—as illustrated above—a stunning frock modishly authoritative for dinner wear or "dressier" occasions at the fashionable resorts.

Sports frocks of chenille
A delightful group of "sporttime" models duplicating the popular English frocks, in sizes for "Madame" and "Miss"; $25.

The new riding habits for winter resort wear
For a gay morning gallop the habits here featured are becomingly modish. The most highly favored cloths, such as imported tweed, coverts, bedford cords, linens, khaki, homespuns and worsteds are used in making these. The tailoring is of that superb character found in habits of the better sort.

In the group are choice herringbone and novelty weaves

The swag model depicted is typical of many more equally mannish and good-looking. Prices range from $25 to $125.

Practical knicker suits

Rough-and-ready attire such as fashionable women declare "smart" for the links and the hike—a well chosen assortment of breezy models in imported tweeds, novelty homespuns, checked worsteds and jerseys

They are so made as to allow full freedom for all out-of-door recreations. Note the cut.

Sports suits of tweeds, homespuns and novelty wool fabrics

—in striking new colorings and color combinations. Also trim tailormades of tricot for street or travel—in late springtime styles.

Frocks—new, exclusive —for sports or informal dress

A comprehensive collection of finer frocks as desirable for the tennis tournament as for the afternoon promenade—frocks with tasteful trimmings, and in irresistible hues.

Frocks of tweed, wool eponge, crepe knit and velette

—the latter two all-new for sports attire. One model, representatively smart, is portrayed. Also canton and romaine crepe frocks, late creations for afternoon and informal occasions.

Newest sports skirts of novelty colored tweeds, homespuns, roshanara crepe

A wealth of late conceits, important in the spring wardrobe, and adding to whatever sport an "air" indefinably elegant. The variety is exceptionally attractive.

The Palmetto Shop Exclusive Knitwear and Shawls

A decidedly interesting innovation in fashionable shops

—typifying Mandel initiative and forethought in the realm of style. Above is sketched a picture of the shop. It is fascinatingly decorated, and golden in novel knitwear, and beautiful silk shawls.

Modish knitted apparel for winter resort wear —of particular interest to those contemplating trips to sunny California and Florida. Entire knitted wardrobes may have been selected. Knitwear and shawls in the season's favored hues—glycine, blue and white and in exquisite combinations of black with white and white with black.

Palmetto Shop features:

Jumpers, tuxedo coats, dresses, skirts, capes, scarfs and shawls

—featuring foremost European and American makers' latest achievements in modes, weaves, colorations.

A glowing sort of a frock, this—of knitted art silk—and when a cool breeze springs up, a French shawl is worn casually over this as a scarf. Dress, $50. Scarf, $25.

The color and warmth of a sun-drenched day is in this imported hand crocheted jumper of art silk in luscious poppy design or various lace patterns; 29.50.

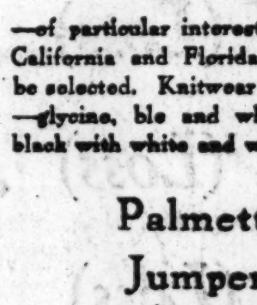

Time, 11 p. m. Place, Palm Beach. To the sound of music, enters the French embroidered shawl of Spanish extraction, playing vividly the role of an evening wrap. $45 to $85.

One takes the summer sun in that most wise and simple of uniforms—an art silk sweater gay in color, and a handmade voile blouse. The sweater is 7.50. Blouse, 6.75 (Stylish Stout sizes).

Shall it be Bimini or a cruise along the bay? No matter—one wears a woolen knitted jumper in the new "yacht" shade, with a wool knitted skirt contrasting. Jumper, 12.75; skirt, $10.

A dip in the Brest Ocean and then a place in the sun, where one wears this most graceful of beach robes, fashioned of French ratine in a variety of glowing shades. 12.75.

A silk sweater, depending on a dash of color for loveliness, will see you through a game of tennis or a tea-dance at sunset. The tuxedo style in the "Fair Isle" pattern is $65. Others, 29.50 to $35. French blouse, 8.75.

Always cool and freshly white is a hand made French voile blouse, daintily with flit and draw-work, when worn with a silk sweater. Blouse, $25; blouse, 8.75. (Stylish Stout sizes).

Stylish Stout sportswear in the new spring modes

The Stylish Stout shop specializes fashionable blouses and tuxedo sweater coats for generously proportioned women's ultra-stylish wear here or at Palm Beach or at Pasadena resorts.

The modes that will be worn by women and misses of average figure are available for stout women, as well. The range of "stout sizes" is satisfyingly complete.

And when you ride at this informal playground, the cunningest blouse (not too tailored to be feminine) are those of light dainty, with ladder plaiting and tucked bosom. 3.95 to 8.95.

If you must spring more than half way this year, it must be at Palm Beach, where you will wear an imported peasant blouse of French habitude with a girlish of ribbon and vital rags. $15 to $25.

ALDERMEN SEEK FACTS ON CITY'S INTEREST MONEY

No Trace of $100,000
Due on Traction Payment

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

A subcommittee, headed by Ald. T. O. Wallace, trailed for two hours yesterday the $3,583,185 which the surface lines reported the city administration had refused. They found no trace of more than $100,000 interest money which this traction fund has earned.

Even the high-salaried James Breen, first assistant corporation counsel, the higher paid Chester E. Cleveland, special assistant corporation counsel, and his special assistant, Daniel A. Roberts, gave the aldermen no assurance that they would get the interest money for the benefit of the car riders. Asked if the city can recover the interest, Mr. Cleveland said that the question was one of many angles and was a "muddle."

"Say," said Ald. Smith to Cleveland, "has the city a 5 cent fare now?" Still Pay 5 Cents Fare.

Cleveland apparently started to explain when Smith commented: "I can't see it. I still pay 5 cents."

"Has the corporation counsel or the city controller in communications with the surface lines taken steps to protect the city and get the interest money, or did they let it slip by?" asked Ald. T. A. Hogan.

"No," said Cleveland, "everything was done which could be done. We have tried to agree with the surface lines, the elevated roads, and the telephone company to a stipulation that the acceptance of the money would not prejudice any case against them, but they have refused."

"Wouldn't it have been a good plan to have put the money in escrow?" suggested Ald. Wallace.

"Negotiations of every kind failed," replied Cleveland.

The committee decided that it will look over the letters and opinions written to ascertain whether any proposal was ever made by Mr. Cleveland to put the money in escrow and to draw interest while it was so held.

Refused Without Legal Opinion.

It was developed at the meeting that the $100,000 was refused without a written opinion being given by the city law department, although it prepared the letters refusing the money.

The subcommittee made two decisions. One is to call in the officials that the surface lines to ascertain what their attitude is on the city's refusal to accept the $3,583,185. The other is that if and when the money is obtained it shall be placed in the city's traction fund. The corporation counsel's office was instructed to prepare an ordinance making that disposition of the fund was obtained. By this plan the aldermen hope to prevent any of the money getting into the corporate fund.

Schwartz Answers Mayor.

Chairman Schwartz of the local transportation committee yesterday answered Mayor Thompson's letter. The mayor had been invited to appear and operate on a solution of the traction problem. Instead he sent a letter asking the aldermen's position on certain matters.

"It (the mayor's letter) does not contain the invitation of the subcommittee requesting you to cooperate with it," said Schwartz. "The subcommittee is committed to no plan and its invitation is made to you in the hope that by mutual discussion plans may be formulated which will meet with your approval."

Chairman Schwartz discusses his personal views and says relative to one of them: "I am for a 5 cent fare on the elevated as well as the street railways, provided a deficit does not have to be made up by taxation. I am opposed to making up any deficit by taxation. Higher taxation means higher rents, and rents are high enough. I do not believe, therefore, that we should further add to the tax burdens of the community."

The aldermen's other comments praised his own traction plan.

SPECIAL AIDS OF DRY CHIEF HERE TO HELP MOP UP

Dr. R. O. Matthews and Sherman A. Cuneo, special representatives of the Chicago prohibition commission, arrived in Chicago yesterday from Washington to prepare for the arrival of Maj. Haynes Saturday.

Dr. Matthews proceeded to Milwaukee, where he was called in connection with a liquor investigation there. Mr. Cuneo, who is most of the day in the city, will remain here three days. He will confer with Mayor Thompson, Chief Fitzpatrick, District Attorney Cline, and probably United States Senators McCormack and McKinley, on conditions of law and order in the city.

Maj. Haynes will address a gathering of "dry" men on "Law Enforcement" at the Englewood Methodist church at 10 p. m. Sunday.

Investment Jury Urges Hunt for Boat Owner's Slayer

Recommendation that Edward Nelson be apprehended and held to answer for a charge of murder was made by a coroner's jury yesterday which investigated the death of Fred Straight, occupant of a houseboat on the lake front at the foot of Randolph street. Straight was found to have died Dec. 18 from poison administered, the verdict charges, by

"HE WAS CRUEL"

Mrs. Dorothy Shaw Gibbons.

Walter C. Gibbons.

W. C. GIBBONS CRUEL TO WIFE, HER SUIT AVERS

Asks Divorce; Says He Struck Her.

Walter C. Gibbons, said to be a millionaire, and a son of the late Harry R. Gibbons, treasurer of Cook county, was made defendant in a bill for divorce filed yesterday in the Superior court by Attorney Philip R. Davis, representing Mrs. Dorothy Shaw Gibbons, the wife. The bill charges extreme and repeated cruelty.

Mr. Gibbons is president of the H. R. Gibbons box factory, a position he fell heir to on the death of his father, and according to the bill filed by Mrs. Gibbons, enjoys a salary of more than $15,000 a month.

Was a War Worker.

Mrs. Gibbons is the daughter of John B. Shaw, a wealthy publisher and head of the W. R. Smith Publishing company of Atlanta, Ga.

During the war she was a war worker in Boston and was one of the young women who danced with the Prince of Wales. She is a graduate of the La Salle seminary and is an artist and musician.

In her bill it is stated that she was married to Mr. Gibbons on Feb. 28, 1919, and that they have one child, Shirley Ann, 1 year old.

"Trouble Began in 1921."

For a time they lived happily together, she states, but about Easter, 1921, he began abusing and slapping her. She names Thanksgiving day, 1921, asserting he slapped her and attempted to push her down a flight of stairs to their apartment at 1400 Sheridan road. On Dec. 22, he knocked her from a couch, hurting her back, and a few moments later slapped her and ordered her from the house, she says.

Mrs. Gibbons places most of the blame for her marital troubles upon Mrs. Harry R. Gibbons, the mother-in-law, who resided with them until Mrs. Gibbons the younger moved to the Parkway hotel with her child.

STATE CLOSES CASE AGAINST HERSHIE MILLER

The state yesterday closed its case against Hershie Miller and Samuel "Nails" Morton, charged with the murder of Sgt. William Hennessy in the Beaux Arts club a year ago. Both were recently acquitted of the murder of Sgt. James (Puck) Mulcahy, killed with Hennessy.

No evidence was introduced which in any manner contradicted that given at the first trial. Judge Michael L. McKinley questioned closely all the witnesses. Counsel for the defense sought to prove his clients were sober and the policemen intoxicated.

in Evanston During 1921

In spite of labor troubles and high prices of materials, Evanston has just completed the greatest building year in its history, according to F. S. Anderson, building commissioner. Slightly more than $4,000,000 has been spent in the erection of new buildings.

WAR ROMANCE OF DANISH COURT ENDS WITH SUIT

Washington Porter Jr. Says Wife Deserted Him.

Washington Porter Jr., son of a real estate broker, living at 4043 Lake Park avenue, filed suit for divorce in the Superior court yesterday against his wife, Signe Berg-Hansen Porter, whom he married in 1919 in Copenhagen, where he was secretary of the American legation.

Rumor that a break between the couple was imminent came a year and a half ago, when the wife left the Porter home and returned to Europe. She stated while in Paris later that she intended to sue for divorce. Her father is a colonel in the Danish army.

Says Wife Deserted Him.

In his bill Porter charges that his wife deserted him in September, 1920. At the time of her departure from Chicago, her father-in-law gave her money to return home and told her to keep $11,000 worth of jewelry which she wished to return to her husband, it is said.

Met at Danish Court.

It was at a Danish court function that Porter, who is now 27 years old, first met the daughter of the Danish colonel. That was in 1918 during the war.

He returned to Chicago the following year, but in August, 1919, told his parents he was returning to Europe for a vacation.

The following month he notified his parents by cable that he and Miss Berg-Hansen had been married. The couple spent their honeymoon in Paris, London, and Monte Carlo, and then returned to America.

GEORGE PORTER BACK FROM TRIP TO FAR CLIMES

Visiting a prince in a Ford automobile may seem a bit unusual, but such was the experience of George F. Porter, when he paid a visit to Emir Abdullah, prince of Trans-Jordan.

Mr. Porter returned recently from a trip to Asia and Europe. While in Austria he was a witness of the unsuccessful attempt of ex-King Karl to regain the throne.

Mr. Porter is staying at the Drake hotel while in the city. He expressed his great satisfaction at returning to Chicago.

Great Lakes to Reduce Arms by Sale of Pigeons

The Great Lakes Naval Training station will dispose of 187 carrier pigeons as its first step in the reduction of armaments, following the pigeon show in Milwaukee. Several prizes were captured by the birds at the Chicago pigeon show. They are all trained to carry messages from seaplanes.

Bacteriologists' Work

Plans of city bacteriologists for pay increases on the ground their occupation is hazardous were backed up yesterday by an explosion in which Miss Grace Armstrong and Mrs. Beatrice Rigger narrowly escaped serious injury. A generator containing sulphuric acid and hydrogen sulphate exploded, throwing the mixture to the ceiling.

Prison Sentence Given
Man for $25,000 Theft

A sentence of from ten years to life imprisonment was imposed upon Arthur Bernatien yesterday by a jury in Judge Joseph Fitch's court for robbing John F. Amberg, vice president of the Schubert & Amberg State bank of $25,000 on April 21, 1921. Joseph Kelley, tried with him, was found not guilty.

HOW TO START THE EVENING WRONG

THE VENGEANCE OF HENRY JARROMAN

BY ROY VICKERS

SYNOPSIS. The first installment of this thrilling mystery story was published Tuesday. Start reading it today.

Henry Jarroman, 45 years old, has just been released from prison, to which he was sentenced for the murder of Charles Eddie. Theed, the solicitor, who bungled his defense at his trial twenty years before, meets him at the prison door.

Jarroman asks him to find his daughter, who was 2 years old when he was sent to prison. He refuses to allow the lawyer to speak to him of his wife. Theed tells Jarroman that he has become a rich man during his imprisonment. Jarroman surprises Theed by his lack of interest in this stroke of good fortune, and tells Theed that his sufferings in prison have burned out of him every emotion except hate and an insatiable desire for vengeance against John Camden, his one true friend, who stole his wife, killed Eddie, and fastened the crime on Jarroman.

CAMDEN HAD A DAUGHTER.

Theed lost the look of unctuous benevolence. He checked an impetuous question and then proceeded carefully. "I have no doubt—I cannot doubt—that you believe what you say to be true. I may even say that I myself believe it to be true. But proof, my dear Jarroman—legal proof."

"Proof?" echoed Jarroman. "I obtained proof that would have been amply sufficient for any judge and jury in the land. A child could have conducted the prosecution. The facts had to be stated and the chain of evidence was unshakable."

"And you learned this within six months of going to Dartmoor?" said Theed incredulously. "Why did you not attempt to communicate with the authorities? Of course, no doubt you did, and they refused to take action."

"I did not," said Jarroman, "and they would have taken immediate action had I done so. They could not have helped themselves. So far from stating my case to them, I will tell you that when I became ill and went to the hospital, I was unceasingly haunted by the dread that I might slip into delirium and betray the facts."

Theed looked at the other as if he again doubted his sanity. "But surely—if you had done so—"

"If I had done so," interrupted Jarroman, "John Camden would have been hanged before I was released from prison. Or at least he would have been safe in the custody of the police. And what would it have profited me that John Camden—should meet his death—at the hands of the executioner—at the hands of any one but me?"

Theed found himself clutching the arms of his chair. That appalling revelation of a force beyond man's normal understanding—would it be made again, or would the granite self-control guard against a second unveiling of that hell of hatred? Ah, the moment had passed. Beyond a twitching of the hands and lips, Jarroman had not dropped his mask again.

"That's what I've come out of prison for, Theed," said Jarroman, rising. "I don't mind telling you. It is not your interest—I involve myself by attempting to thwart me. You might draw up a will by which I leave everything to my daughter, will you?"

Theed, too, had risen, and the two men faced each other. Jarroman was offering his hand. With a great effort Theed spoke.

"John Camden is dead."

Jarroman gave back as if he had been struck. A sound broke from his lips that was the sound of laughter divorced from humanity. Then abruptly his face was serious.

"You're joking!" he said.

"John Camden committed suicide within a year of your conviction," stated Theed. As he spoke the beads of perspiration stood out on his forehead.

Jarroman swayed, clutched at the table for support. Then he sank to the floor, crouching, his head bent to his knees. As Theed watched horrified, dry, convulsive sobs shook his frame like the spasms of torture.

"Jarroman, Jarroman," he implored. "Pull yourself together. You are ill. You must see a doctor."

"I've made a fool of myself, Theed," said Jarroman at length. He spoke again in a slow, unemotional manner. "But I'm not ashamed of it. A sudden involuntary ex-

COP DANCES AS 2 SALOMES DID; IT RELEASES 'EM

His Rendition of "7 Veils"
Proves a "Dud."

Brevity, as Herodias' daughter remarked while proudest before the rather late King Herod for the head of Zacharias' son, is the soul of art. This dictum having been omitted from the book of rules and regulations of Policeman Harry Miller of the Lawndale station, he was doubly shocked to discover the two Salomes at the medical students' first party.

His pulse and blood pressure had become sufficiently normal yesterday to permit him to present his interpretation of the dance before a critical audience in the court of Municipal Judge Lee W. Carrier. It was submitted as a part of the evidence in the case. There were three other parts: two veils and a rope of jade beads, from the extremity of which there dangled a pretty little sporrans.

To Make the Dance Complete.

Parentetically, it may be stated that no esthetic dance is complete without a sporrans. It is to the terpsichorean costumes what the fan is to the Spanish senorita. Swinging, as it does, free and untrammelled, it symbolizes the unfettered spirit of art. In appearance, the sporrans resembles military's handbag, if the same were fringed with tails of the well known jackrabbit.

Mr. Miller's decision to dance was not arrived at by himself. Attorney Charles E. Erbein, representing the original interpreters—Mrs. Katherine L. Erbein, 417 North Clark street, and Mrs. Myrtle Farar, 421 Oakwood boulevard—arrived for him. Mr. Miller had testified:

"I pinched the party. It was in a room in the rear of a soft drink parlor at 1028 West 23d street. They were doing the dance when I came in."

Eats It Every Night.

"What kind of a dance?" asked Attorney Erbein.

"I don't know. It looked like a cross between a shimmy and a hula hula. And all each of them had on were the veils and the sporrans."

"Did you ever hear of Salome?"

"Certainly. I eat it every night. Salome's my favorite sausage."

The court heartily concurring, Mr. Miller habited himself in the two veils and the rope of beads, which strikingly enhanced the beauty of his 250 pound form. The veils were draped over his shoulders, the beads fastened about his chest.

Evidence Falls.

He extended his arms horizontally and flexed his knees. Suddenly his belt buckle quivered convulsively. The sporrans began to oscillate.

"What's the matter?" asked the court.

"I'm dancing," blushed Mr. Miller.

"Stop it. You'll be coming apart. Can't you see the sporrans? It's a warrant the charge. It looks to the court as if they were merely shaking for the drinks."

DEBS VICTIM OF HEART AILMENT,
ASSOCIATE SAYS

Eugene V. Debs, recently released from the Atlanta penitentiary by President Harding, is suffering from heart trouble in his home at Terre Haute, Ind., according to a statement made by Otto Branstetter, national executive secretary of the Socialist party. His health is such, according to Branstetter, that he may never be able to set out on a speaking tour of any duration.

Secretary Branstetter's announcement was made in connection with that of the postponement of the proposed Chicago meeting at which Debs was to have spoken.

"Mr. Debs will have to undergo a course of treatment at home before he can even consider any speaking salons," he said.

Saloon Owner Victim of $500 Blackmail Threat

William Hoffman, owner of a saloon at 2725 Fulton street, reported to the police last night that he had received a demand for $500 from a man who telephoned him and threatened that his saloon would be blown up if he failed to place the money in an ash can in the alley at the rear of the saloon.

Fireman Saves Woman Overcome by Smoke

Mrs. F. J. Donahue, 60 years old, who lives with her grandson, F. J. Donahue, at 4428-30 Dover street, was carried to the street from the third floor last night by Fireman George Molligan of truck company No. 23, when overcome by smoke from fire of unknown origin in the basement of the building.

ROOKIE HURLER OF CUBS DRILLS NIGHTSON CURVE

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

When an athlete will toil at night so that he may advance in his profession he must be classed as a party. George Anton Stueland, one of the rookie hurlers belonging to the Cubs, is such. This much was made evident yesterday when Bill Killefer, Cub boss, received a letter written by the kid athlete from his home town, Sioux Falls, S. D.

Last summer a GEORGE STUELAND Cub scout ran (TRIBUNE Photo.) across Stueland at Sioux Falls, where he was hurling for the home team. The kid was purchased and late in the season arrived at the Cub park to show how he could make a baseball perform. He pitched a bit and displayed plenty of ability but not much knowledge of the art. Some of the old heads gave him a few pointers and he started back to Sioux Falls, feeling sure he would off his new found mates in the spring.

Here is his system. When "Stew" went out to the reservation he did not forget baseball for the winter. First off he speared himself a job in a box factory. Then he devised ways and means of cultivating the few tricks he had been tipped off to during his brief sojourn in the big tent. In his letter he claimed his system proved a howling success. Here is what he did:

He snoped around town and found a building with space enough to permit heaving a ball the regulation pitching distance—approximately sixty feet. Then he dragged in an old mattress and fastened it to the wall. This provided a cushion to absorb the shock of the flying balls. On the mattress he marked a space the width of a home plate and this furnished a target to aid him in his control.

Drills on Curves. As "Stew" boasted a day job, he had only his evenings available for practice, and he has been heaving at the mattress four or five nights a week all winter. His principal aim has been to develop a way to throw a curve without advertising to the batter what was coming. When the Cubs had him last fall he threw a curve by "palming" or "wrapping" the ball. Batters could see this and knew what to expect.

Killefer and Alexander showed him how to throw a "hook" by holding the ball on the top with two fingers, the same as it is held for a fast one. He says the big league method is easy for him and, moreover, he believes his curve has made deception.

NEW ZEALANDER WINS SCULL DUEL

WANGANUI, New Zealand, Jan. 5.—D'Arcy Handfield claims the world's sculling championship as a result of his victory over Richard Armit on a three and one-fourth mile course on the Wanganui river. Handfield won by six lengths. His time was 19:45.

The last holder of the world's sculling championship was Ernest Barry of London, who, having held the title for several years, was defeated by Alfred Felton of Australia last night but regained his title by winning from Felton on the Parramatta river, New South Wales, on Aug. 28, 1920.

Since that time no race for the championship had been rowed, and it was several times reported that Barry would probably be unable to defend his title. It is probable that his virtual retirement left the championship title open for the contest which has just been decided on the Wanganui river.

INDOOR CLUBS MEET TONIGHT

The first half of the season of the Windy City indoor schedule will close tonight when the Belle Plaines clash with the Central Turners at St. Alphonsus hall, Lincoln and Southport. The game will be called at 8:15. St. Alphonsus will battle the Belle Plaines team, while the Ardmore will meet the Central Turners. The record champions of the first half season, will take on the Murleys, while the Belle Plaines clash with the Barry club.

HOCKEY LEAGUE GAMES.

Following are the bookings for games tomorrow and Sunday in the Chicago Hockey League:

Tomorrow—De Paul university at Chicago Beach; Hinalele vs. Illinois A. C. at White City; Edgewater Beach vs. Canadian club at White City.

Sunday—De Paul vs. I. A. C. at White City; Chicago Beach at Edgewater Beach; Canadian club at Hinalele.

Games are scheduled at 2:30 o'clock.

DE PAUL TO PLAY VALPO.

De Paul and Valparaiso university basketball teams will clash at the Broadway armory tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. De Paul academy light and heavyweight stars will play La Grange and La Grange academy and bantams will meet the Chicago Latin in games preceding the university tilt.

FARM AND GARDEN

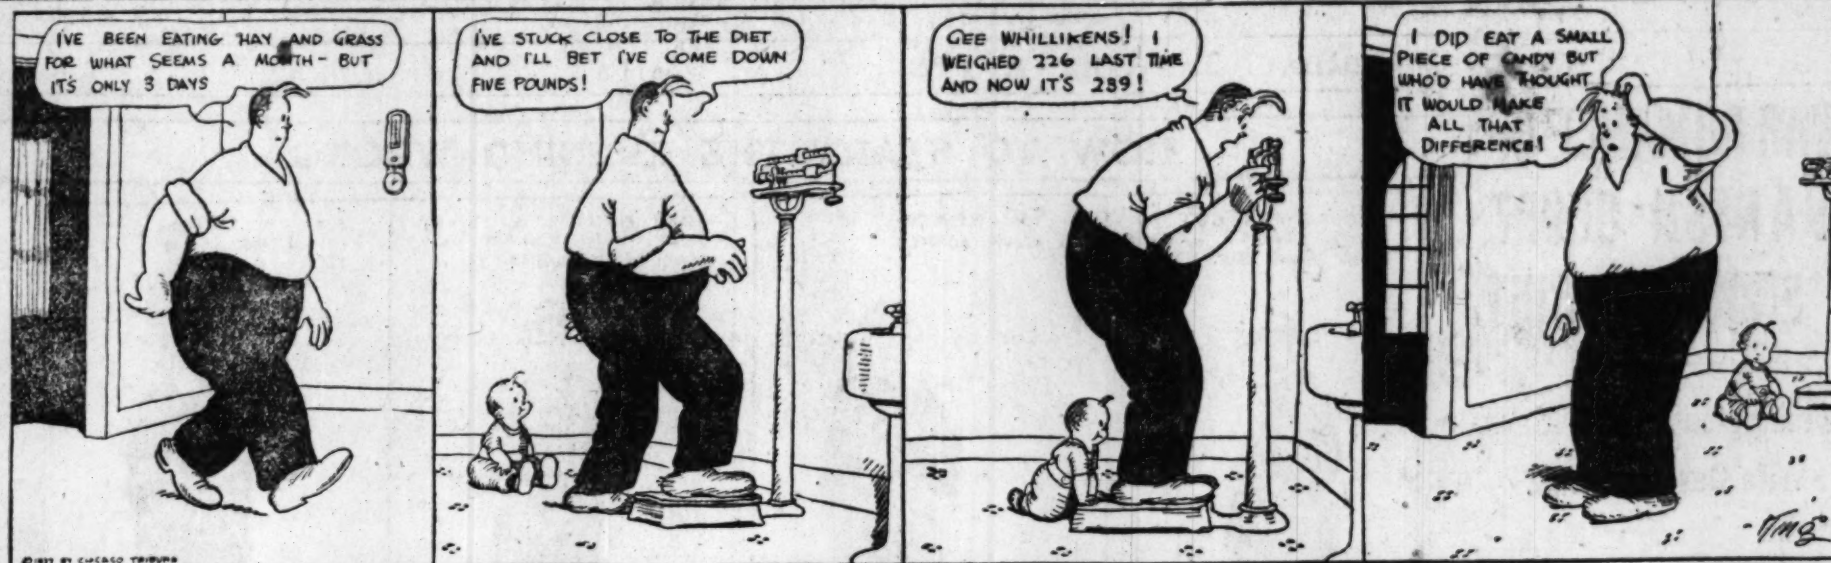

NO MONEY IN FEEDING COW MINERALS.

FOR many years startling claims have been coming from stock food companies telling about the effect that minerals have on animals. Naturally stockmen, who are constantly on the lookout for improved and cheaper means of producing meat and milk, have become interested in the feeding of minerals to their hogs and cattle, particularly those who produce milk for the market.

Animal nutrition experts say that these claims have not been substantiated by agricultural experiment stations. Forbes of the Ohio station says: "Where the ration is especially deficient in minerals the use of mineral supplements will cause some additional growth, and perhaps some additional milk production, but probably not sufficient to make it a paying venture, merely on the pounds of the increase immediately resulting."

Dr. W. B. Nevens, expert on dairy nutrition at University of Illinois, says the best possible way to supply minerals to dairy cattle is by the use of liberal amounts of leguminous roughage, such as alfalfa, soybean, or cowpea hay, both in the rearing of young stock and in feeding for milk production.

GASOLINE ALLEY—GOT TO STICK CLOSER, WALT

Woods and Waters

FEATHERED "HOBOS" LOITER ON NORTH SHORE LAWNS.

"YOU will be interested, I am sure, to hear that while walking down to the depot in Kenilworth the other morning, I not only saw a pair of cardinals—who have been sojourners in the neighborhood of my home since early last summer—but ran into a flock of thirty or more Bohemian waxwings. They were greedily devouring red berries, of I believe, Japanese barberry bushes.

"I was able to get close enough to them to observe their beautiful coloring, particularly the chestnut colored spot under the tail, as distinct as though it were painted. Their only song was a cheerful chirp of two low notes, but there were so many birds in the flock that it made quite a chorus.

"It is years since I last saw these birds in this section. I suppose the prevailing cold weather up north has driven them down to us.

"JOHN WHITE."

I wish you would shoot that bunch of feathered hobos down this way, J. W. It's been quite a while since we have seen any in our back yard.

Queer fellows, these waxwings. Few of the so-called song birds are so nearly songless as the waxwings. But we can overlook that, as they are beautiful and have personality. Trouble is the waxwing is such a "ho" in his wanderings that we don't see him often enough.

EASTERN PAIR INCREASES LEAD IN PIN MATCH

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 5.—Mort Lind and Charley Trucks, representing the east in the east vs. west bowling match, tonight increased their lead over Hank Marino and Jimmy Blouin of Chicago, outscoring the westerners by 208 pins in the first block of eight games rolled here. The Lindsay-Trucks combination topped 5,178 pins, the score of Marino and Blouin being 2,970.

The bowlers are contesting in a home and home match, the first half having been rolled in Chicago, when Lindsay and Trucks outscored the Chicagoans by eighty-five pins in three nights' play. Their big margin tonight gives the easterners a lead of 293 pins in the match. Another block of eight games will be rolled tomorrow night and the final shots will be fired in a nine game final on Saturday night.

SOLDIER FIVES TO PLAY TOURNEY

The 122d field artillery, formerly the 1st field artillery, will hold its annual basketball tournament beginning Monday. It will be an elimination series. A large silver trophy will be awarded the winning battery, and the players will receive gold medals. Silver and bronze medals will be awarded the players of the teams winning second and third places.

BIG FIVE BEATS RED CROWNS, 25-23

Whiting, Ind., Jan. 5.—Whiting Red Crowns sustained their first defeat on the home floor tonight, losing to Chicago Big Five, 25 to 23, in a rousing game. The score at half time was 10 to 10. Marquardt's eye for the hoop won the game, as guarding was so close neither team had many chances.

RESULTS OF AMATEUR BOUTS.

Final bouts in the amateur boxing tourney at Ferretti's loop gym last night resulted as follows:

Pete Taylor beat J. McDougalh, 4 rounds, at 135 pounds; W. Glendahl beat W. Getis, 3 rounds, at 135 pounds; Morris beat F. Links, 3 rounds, at 140 pounds; Ben Shapiro beat F. Moore, 1 round, at 125 pounds; Geo. Flanagan beat B. Shapiro, 3 rounds, at 115 pounds; John Kop stopped George Hoffman, 2 rounds, at 145 pounds.

The usual trial bouts will be held on Saturday afternoon.

MERE $54,000 IS ALL ROUSH ASKS OF REDS

Princeton, Ind., Jan. 5.—It will cost the Cincinnati National League club $54,000, spread over a period of three years, to bring Eddie Roush, outfielder, back into baseball.

Roush declared this statement here while on his way to his home at Oakland City, Ind., from a hunting trip.

Roush declared his minimum price for the next three years is $18,000 annually. He said the Cincinnati management had at least $150,000 tied up in him, and that he will receive his price before he is permitted to remain out of the game.

Roush added that he expected to play baseball for three more years only. He said he would not be surprised if Cincinnati traded him, and that he prefers to go to New York.

ELKS' GRID GAME DRAWS BAND AND ROOTING CLANS

Outdoor football conditions will be reproduced as far as possible for the Elks' day indoor contest Sunday afternoon between Gary Elks and Morris Supremes, in the international amphitheater at the stockyards. The chief differences will be those of warmth for the spectators and a sure footing for the players, afforded by the tankard playing surface, while outside fields are frozen.

The two lineups will present a mingling of famous players from eastern and western teams, the Supremes having four easterners and a southern player on their eleven, while the steel town eleven boasts five performers from eastern varieties, and one southerner.

The Gary Elks will send their ban to the contest, which is regarded as a strong rooting body, as it is enlarged as a semi-final in the inter-city race for post-season football honors. Other trimmings have been added to the program. Admission is $1.

RIVERVIEW HOCKEY WINNER.

One goal gave Riverview a 2 to 1 victory over the OMA A. A. in a well played and interesting hockey game at Riverview last night. A large crowd saw the game. Roland Goni, Riverview's star, was the hero, scoring the winning goal.

NOTES OF THE CUE ROOMS.

Charles Le Gros captured a Chicago Billiard league three cushion match from Earl Lookabaugh, 50 to 39, in 77 minutes last night. Le Gros ran an 8, the loser's best being a 7. Tonight Charles (133) and Strassberger (42) go on at the Recreation.

IOWA WRESTLING FIVE WINS.

Mount Pleasant, Ia., Jan. 5.—(Special.)—Iowa Wesleyan's basketball team defeated Carroll Biblical institute tonight in a one-sided game, 38 to 9.

8,000 DEMAND 5,000 SEATS AT WILLS GO

BY EDWARD DOHERTY.

Portland, Ore., Jan. 5.—(Special.)—The biggest bargain ever offered to boxing fans—the chance to see a heavy weight championship battle, a bitter grudge fight, with four preliminary bouts thrown in, all for nothing but the price of a taxi—is drawing like a mustard plaster.

There were nearly 5,000 men and women in the Milwaukee arena—a converted car barn—Monday afternoon when Bill Tate slid on his ear in the first round and copped the colored boxing title from Harry Wills. The ending had such an unhappy effect on the spectators that the Milwaukee commission believed boxing had been killed. Hence it was arranged the fighters should fight again tomorrow night.

8,000 WANT TO SEE BOAT.

There were nearly 5,000 men and women present, and they were told that they could get their old seats back for nothing. But already more than 8,000 men and women have come, phoned, or written to Frank Kendall, the matchmaker, to tell him just where they sat, and demanded their tickets.

Those who had kept their stubs now have their tickets. Those who lost their stubs, but convinced Kendall they are honest, also have their tickets. Others are just "unlucky."

There will be an extra force of police in and around the arena tomorrow night to handle the thousands of fans who will attempt to get in.

Fear Violent Fans.

The place will not hold more than 5,000 at the most—and that only by allowing hundreds to stand, and by placing chairs in the aisles. It is feared that disappointed fans may try to wreck the place.

Nearly 1,000 men crowded into the Olympic gymnasium today to watch the colored heavyweight fight "do their stuff." No admission was charged them, though Kendall usually exacts a toll of 25 cents. Both men are in the pink of condition, if men of their hue can be pink, and both are bitter.

"Unless Wills brings a club or a razor into the ring with him," says "Kid Howard," Tate's manager, "he's going to get the beating of his life."

LEONARD'S BOUT WITH DUNDEE OFF

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 5.—It is officially announced that the proposed boxing bout between Johnny Dundee and Benny Leonard, which had been tentatively set for Jan. 12, has been called off. Though Leonard had agreed to box before the club that had promoted the Mitchell-Leonard fight, called off last Monday because of Mitchell's illness, it was found that the club had failed to secure the date from the boxing commission and all plans fell through.

Decisions of The Tribune boxing representatives are:

At Terre Haute, Ind.—Bud Taylor knocked out Solly Epstein (1).
At Battle Creek, Mich.—Rock Smith knocked out Elmer Hogan (1).
At Boston—Johnny Downes beat Louis Hamlin (10); Ray MacFarland stopped Frankie Gull (7).

Aldermen Draft New Rules to Govern City Athletics

ALD. OSCAR OLSEN.

A tentative set of rules to govern Chicago athletic contests and exhibitions, including wrestling bouts, was drawn up by the rules committee of the newly appointed city athletic commission yesterday.

The rules were worked out by Ald. Olsen, Clerk, and Lyle, will be submitted to the full commission at a meeting this afternoon.

One rule which is being considered, but which has not yet been included even in the tentative draft, would require that wrestling bouts be divided into fifteen minute "rounds" and that a system of scoring by points be devised which would permit the making of a decision at the end of each bout.

The proposed rule is being designed to prevent the contestants from "stalling" through long grappling sessions to a draw.

Curb for Rowdism. In order to do away with blood-thirsty cries of "Kill him," etc., the rules committee ordained that there shall be no coaching, yelling, bad language, or rowdism among the spectators. If more than orderly applause is indulged in, the representative of the commission present is empowered to have the police arrest the offender.

Another rule makes the licensee of the contest responsible for preventing all wagering or gambling of any kind in or about the building or inclosure where the contest is held. A third rule forbids smoking while the contest is actually in progress.

Punishment for Faking.

There is a strong section forbidding fake exhibitions, which reads in part as follows: "All individuals, clubs, societies, corporations, or persons to whom licenses shall be issued shall be held liable for the legal, orderly, honest, genuine conduct of such contests or exhibitions in accordance with the advertisement of the same."

"Any licensee holder found guilty by the commission of holding a fake athletic contest or exhibition, or practicing any fraud upon the public or upon any of the participants or contestants of such contest or exhibition, shall be prohibited from ever receiving therefrom a license to conduct an athletic contest or exhibition within the limits of the city of Chicago."

All Must Have License.

The rules provide that wrestling contests may be held under the so-called "White" rules if the contestants and promoters agree to them and the commission gives its approval. Promoters, managers, seconds, and trainers, under other rule says, must be licensed by the commission at a fee of $1.

Athletics220 SWIM MARK
FALLS TO SPEED OF WEISSMULLER

BY FRANK SCHREIBER.

Let by John Weissmuller, who established a new world's record in the 220 yard free style event, swimmers of the Illinois A. C. last night defeated the Great Lakes A. A. and Northwestern university in an open meet held in the Tri-color pool. I. A. C. swimmers won every event, while Great Lakes took one second and one third, and Northwestern tankers placed second in the relay and 220 yard free style events.

Weissmuller's new time of 2:19.35 slipped 1.5 of a second off the former 220 yard record set by Ted Cann of the Detroit A. C. A bad start and slips on two turns held Weissmuller from even faster time.

Leads by Half Lap.

The I. A. C. star was slow in jumping off, but once in the water he drew a half lap ahead of Ralph Breyer of the Purple, who placed second. On the first and second turns Johnny led the field, but in the last half of the grind settled down, and finished his final lap with a burst of speed.

In the fifty yard swim Abe Siegel of the Tricolor, nosed out Hugo Miller, a teammate. Miller took the lead in the first length of the tank, but on the final turn Siegel evened up and nosed out the former Lane Tech boy by the touch.

Sybil Bauer Fails in Try.

Miss Sybil Bauer, holder of the world's record for the women's 100 yard back stroke event, failed in her effort to better her mark, although she was an easy winner. Lack of competition may have made the going too easy for the titleholder.

Edna O'Connell beat out Dorothy O'Brien by a touch in the 100 yard breast stroke. The Tricolor team defeated Northwestern university by a half length in the 160 yard relay race.

Charles A. Dean, chairman of the championship committee of the Central A. U., announced that the National Water Polo championship would be held in Madison Square garden pool in New York on March 14, 15, and 16, and that the I. A. C. champion last year, was entered. In an exhibition match after the meet, the champion team defeated a second team, 10 to 2.

Summary of Events.

Other novelty events for junior members of the club made up the program.

Summary:

Men's open 50 yard swim—Won by A. Siegel, I. A. C.; H. Miller, I. A. C.; second, J. R. Guman, Great Lakes A. A.; third, Time, 1:10.3.

Men's open 440 yard swim—Won by G. McDermott, I. A. C.; A. C. Keane, Great Lakes A. A.; second, J. T. Miller, I. A. C.; third, Time, 5:28.2.

Women's open 100 yard backstroke—Won by Sybil Bauer, I. A. C.; Maxwell Miller, I. A. C.; second, Minnie De Vry, I. A. C.; third, Time, 1:21.5.

Women's open 100 yard breast stroke—Won by Edna O'Connell, I. A. C.; Dorothy O'Brien, I. A. C.; second, Elina Myral, I. A. C.; third, Time, 1:31.

Men's open 220 yard swim—Won by John Weissmuller, I. A. C.; R. T. Breyer, Northwestern, second, Time, 2:19.35. (New world's record.)

Club match race, 100 yard back stroke, won by A. Siegel, I. A. C.; R. T. Breyer, Northwestern, second, Time, 1:10.3.

160 yard relay—Won by I. A. C. (Siegel, Miller, McDermott, Weissmuller); Northwestern university, second, Time, 1:17.1-3.

C. A. A. SWIMMERS
TO RACE PURPLE

Captain Harry Hazelhurst's Chicago A. A. tankers will clash with Northwestern university in Patten gym pool on Jan. 11. In a meet last month the C. A. A. team defeated the Purple tankers and Hazelhurst is counting on another victory in the events at Patten gym. Two meets with the University of Chicago, the first on Jan. 25 at the C. A. A. and the second at Bartlett gym pool on Feb. 1, and a meet with the Milwaukee A. C. on a date yet to be set have been carded by the Cherry Circle coach.

Purple Wrestlers Win
from Eckhart Park Boys

Northwestern university wrestlers last night defeated Eckhart park in a dual practice meet at Patten gym. Purple mat men won six of the ten matches. In the 125 pound class, Meyers of the Purple team threw Cronce of Eckhart in 9:00 with a wristlock, while Mathews of the Purple pinned Coach Sobota of the Eckhart team in 10:30 with a body scissors and wristlock. The team leaves tonight for Urbana for a meet tomorrow with Illinois.

JOHN WEISSMULLER.

CHICAGO now holds another world's record. It remained for a young I. A. C. tank star to annex the mark in the men's open 220 yard swim at the Michigan avenue club last night.

MATHIESEN IN TRIP TO DEFEND
ICE TITLE HERE

Arrangements for Oscar Mathiesen of Norway, international professional speed ice skating champion, to defend his title in races with American skaters were completed by Julian T. Fitzgerald and Alfred Johnson last night. Mathiesen will sail for America next week and will compete in races at Lake Placid, N. Y.; St. Johns, N. B.; St. Paul, and at the new ice rink now under construction at Milwaukee.

Fitzgerald, who will manage Mathiesen on his tour, said last night the champion would race Bobby McLean, Nerval Baptiste, Edward Lamy, Art Staff, and other American pros.

BREAKS RECORD

CHICAGO TENNIS.

IN the official rankings for 1921 issued by the United States Lawn Tennis association the only Chicago name in the first twenty is that of Walter T. Hayes—in fourteenth position.

Why does not Chicago, whose amateur golfers are feared at all national tournaments, compare with the east and Pacific coast at the net game? That question occurred to The Wake last summer when viewing some of the international matches in this city. We propounded the query to Sam Hardy, captain of the American Davis cup team of 1920. He wrote:

"Chicago has not produced champion men players since the time of the Neale and Krieger Collins. One reason is because the old successful clubs, such as the Kenwood Country and the Wanderers, disbanded when their leases fell in. This stopped play not only among the men but among their sons, which was a terrible blow to tennis."

"Chicago learned its lesson and since has built courts only upon land that is owned by the club members. But these clubs, comparatively new, lacked the means of developing their best players by sending them each year to compete in eastern tournaments."

"It is constant tournament play against players with various styles that develops any player. Local competition is not varied enough. I believe players of Chicago have been handicapped more by lack of outside tournament experience than by the absence of professional coaching."

This last observation was prompted by The Wake's query whether competent professionals would not raise the standard of local tennis.

Maroon basket tossers romped away with a slow game from the Chicago College of Osteopathy, 43 to 13, at Bartlett gym last night. The bonneters of college little opposition and Norgren substituted six men in the lineup, of whom Dickson and Duggans showed promise, each scoring four field goals.

H. R. Crook Named Head of Prep Meet Committee

H. R. Crook, athletic director at Senn High school, has been appointed chairman of the Chicago High School Athletic league track committee. Dates for the indoor meet will be announced next week.

At the annual meeting of the La Grange club a resolution was passed authorizing the board of governors to cancel the present leases on the grounds and to enter into new leases and contracts for the purchase of the present club grounds. An increase from 250 to 275 members was voted, and the dues increased from $125 to $135 a year. The extra $10 will be set aside for ten years to provide a fund for the purchase price of $40,000.

CLUB HEADS ASKED TO GOLF GREENS CONFAB

BY JOE DAVIS.

Through William A. Alexander, who is a member of the United States Golf association greens committee, an invitation has been sent to the presidents and chairmen of grounds and greens committees of all the clubs in the Chicago district and leading clubs in the state to attend a meeting at the Drake hotel at 10 a. m., Jan. 14.

This will be a meeting of the greens section of the U. S. G. A., and addresses will be made by President Whitney and chairman Piper of the U. S. G. A. greens committee.

The national greens committee in the one year of its existence has accumulated statistics and information of value to every golf course. Last summer was a trying one for most of the courses, fungus almost ruining many of the putting greens, while drought, humidity, and other causes damaged the courses and delayed construction.

The national greens committee was formed for the purpose of combating these difficulties, and its information, received from all sections of the country, will do much to minimize them.

Every club is urged to send a representative, and a special invitation is extended to professionals and superintendents of courses.

Dixmoor to Begin Work.

After a month of active operations, the new Dixmoor club, which will be located just south of the Calumet Country club, is practically assured of closing its membership by March 1.

For a young I. A. C. tank star to annex the mark in the men's open 220 yard swim at the Michigan avenue club last night.

It is expected the course will be ready for play by Aug. 1, 1922. The club has moved its offices to 938 Otis building.

We Have Seen Mr. Keaton as Some Mr. Keatons

"THE PLAYHOUSE."

By Mae Tine.

Because several people have written and have asked: "Have you seen Buster Keaton in 'The Playhouse'?" and because I hadn't, the other day I dropped in a theater where the comedy was showing. Then I saw the why of the question. The picture has a touch of that "something different" you fans (we fans) are always looking for. Tell you about it.

The playhouse in question is a vaudeville theater and for considerable time "Natalie Talmadge" is unrolling other half in the whole show. He is the stage hand and the trained monkey. He is the orchestra leader to trap drummer. He is the audience even to the timid, bored, sleeping husband and the husband's haughty and equally bored spouse who occupy box seats.

All of that part of the picture is fairly clever, unusual, and interesting. Then the comedy takes on a common, slapstick angle, and at the same time, its place among the ranks of mediocre comedies.

How can one man be seen doing so many things at the same time? In the present instance when there are a lot of Mr. Keatons on the stage and in the orchestra pit—they are not Mr. Keaton. You get no "closeups" of them, however, and they look like Mr. Keaton. The doubling process and trick photography attend to the "closeups."

So now, what's writing has seen "The Playhouse" and that's about it. Y'wikkum!

WHEAT PRICES CLOSE FIRM ON MILLING DEMAND

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

A marked improvement in the milling demand for cash wheat in all leading markets led to good buying by local professionals, and while there was a sharp break at one time the finish was at net gains of 1/4c. Corn was under pressure from cash houses and closed 1/4c lower, while oats were unchanged and rye 1/4c lower.

Local traders were rather friendly to the buying side of wheat early, and there was also buying by houses with northwestern connections that usually act for mills. Minneapolis May showed pronounced strength as the result of mill buying and led the advance in all markets, closing 1 1/4 higher. St. Louis and Kansas City both reported mill after cash wheat, with sales of 125,000 bu at St. Louis since Saturday.

Efforts to take profits found the market without support at one time and made the break to the low point, but toward the last there was good buying by shorts and commission houses on reports that a Chicago mill had bought up practically all small stocks of dark No. 1 northern spring in private elevators and paid 20c over the May.

Corn Under Pressure.
At no time were corn prices higher than the previous day's close, the selling of a large amount of May by a cash house, presumably hedging against purchases to arrive late Wednesday or reshedding grain that the Grain corporation failed to accept for Russia, putting a weight on the market from which it failed to recover. Commission houses and the local element were fair buyers, but there was a lack of snap to the market.

Exporters were after grain here and in other markets; 200,000 bu here. Domestic demand, however, was less active. While oats averaged lower with corn, the undertone was not weak, and a rally came toward the last and the finish was firm. Trade was mainly of the local character. Domestic demand is holding up well.

Spreading between wheat and rye constituted the bulk of the business in the latter grain. Export bids were out of line. No. 2 g'n spot sold at 5c under May.

Cured Meats Firmer.

Strength in hogs and light offerings made a firmer market for cured product and lard gained 1/4c and short ribs 1/8c. Sales of 140,000 lbs loose lard were made at 70c under January and 50,000 lbs leaf sold at 8c. Fresh meat prices were firmer. Western meat

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

Wheat traders are mixed by the conflicting character of the Argentine news. Yesterday's cables reported weather brilliant, as claimed by one report, and the reverse by another. It was also reported at the last that Argentina was offering wheat cheaper than America. Liverpool cables asserted that unseasonable prevailed there owing to light offerings from Argentina. Buenos Aires cables said crop reports were more favorable, with wheat offered c. i. f. Europe at $1.24, compared with $1.33 for Gulf wheat and $1.50 for No. 2 Manitoba. Corn has advanced to 70 1/2c c. i. f. Europe from Argentina, against 73 1/2c from the Atlantic and 70 1/2c from the Gulf.

Close observers are not expecting the grain markets to do much either way for the present. Nervousness in wheat is shown by the advance of 1c late in the day, on covering by one local operator who is going away, and by a few pit operators. All were scared by the announcement that the B. A. Eckhart Milling company had bought $5,000 bu No. 1 dark northern spring wheat, all of that grade there is here.

A commission house says the grain markets are laboring under the weight of the liberal supplies, and makes the point that there is not likely to be much on the buying side with January wheat 7 1/2c under May, with corn 7c and oats 5 1/2c discount. Others say "Forget the bearish factors, as they have been discounted."

A large Indiana trader who was here yesterday talked bullish on all grains, regarding corn and oats, as an investment purchase. Commenting on July wheat he called attention to the fact that Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, and Texas, which have nearly 50 per cent of the 44,000,000 acres seeded for the crop of 1922, show an aggregate condition of only 61, as shown by the government report.

George A. Plummer, one of the best known grain and stock solicitors, who was connected with E. W. Wagner & Co. for 15 years, has formed a connection with Dean, Onativia & Co.

It is estimated that Minneapolis mills have bought 1,000,000 bu May wheat in that market in Chicago the last two days to remove hedge against four sales. Selling at Minneapolis is said to have been mainly back spreading between that market and Chicago. Owing to the milling demand, Minneapolis May has gone to 7 1/2c over Chicago, against 5c over recently.

Foreign crop reports on the whole are generally favorable, except from Roumania, where the area seeded last fall was very small. Good rains have fallen in France.

"We have had another cold wave sweep over the Kansas wheat fields," said a Kansas City message to Clement, Curtis & Co. "I cannot imagine worse growing conditions than we have seen on 80 per cent of the Kansas acreage since it was seeded. It may make an ordinary crop, but the probabilities are that it will be the smallest yield for the area sown in Kansas in many years."

The south is said to have been the principal buyer of the 125,000 bu cash wheat sold to mills from St. Louis the last few days.

A large part of the early sown wheat is infested with Hessian fly, according to the detailed Missouri crop report. The bulk of the wheat went into the winter in fair condition. Hard freezes, without snow covering, would damage the young and tender plants severely in the early part of the winter. About 70 per cent of the corn crop is merchantable.

SECURED BY THE PARK MANOR APARTMENTS AND LAND

The property as pictured above is an attractive brick structure (built at old cost) containing twelve flats of four rooms each and three flats of five rooms each, with sun parlors, located in the new and highly developed Park Manor district of Chicago. The value of ground and building is twice the amount of the loan. The actual income is four times the greatest yearly interest charge. On account of the unusually large income from this property, which is sufficient to materially reduce the amount of the loan each year, and is additionally safeguarded by monthly installment payments of principal and interest, we consider these bonds a splendid investment and offer them

There was a general upturn in live stock values yesterday, cattle advancing 10@25c, hogs 15@25c, and sheep and lambs about that much. Best yearling steers offered reached $10.00, averaging $7.50, and 1,570 lb. heaves went at $9.50. No hogs sold above $8.00, while the average price advanced to $7.35, highest in ten days. Best lambs sold at $12.00.

Competition in all branches of the trade was lively, outside orders, especially for hogs, being large. Eastern packers took 20,000 of the 37,000 hogs received yesterday, making shipments first four days of the week about 67,000, while local packers secured less than 10,000.

Receipts are dwindling. Receipts of all kinds of stock this week dropped somewhat below general expectations. It was three years ago this week that Chicago received the second largest hog total on record at 309,890, the grand total number of cars of all kinds of stock received that week being largest on record at 5,175.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 4,500 cattle, 28,000 hogs, and 10,000 sheep, against 6,273 cattle, 34,426 hogs, and 13,468 sheep the corresponding Friday a year ago.

BUSINESS NEWS IN BRIEF

[Copyright: 1922: By Fairchild News Service.]

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Secretary of Commerce Hoover is receiving instant demands from trade associations that the administration define the legal limits of activities of such bodies, it is understood.

NEW YORK.—Several lines of imported overcoats now are being shown by buyers who are ready to operate. More goods were purchased last month than the market in general was aware of.

NEW YORK.—Coat and suit buyers are expected in the market later than usual. Those now here are skeptical of prices, owing to the ease they encountered in obtaining fall merchandise at reductions. Business is hard to get, manufacturers agree.

NEW YORK.—"White sales" in linen departments are admittedly a failure in many instances. The public is taking good quantities of linen and cotton materials, but will not pay the price for pure linen.

BERLIN.—Fears that German textile embargo would injure foreign trade are proven unfounded. There has been practically no cessation of exportation.

NEW YORK.—Good denim business followed the naming of lower prices in the primary market. Apparently it is felt in general that the new basis is very low.

NEW YORK.—Introduction of blouses from central Europe is growing. The peasant type vogue is believed accountable.

NEW YORK.—Best values in erect pile velvets for next fall are found in German goods, according to a prominent buyer. Clifton velvets are offered to wholesale from $6 to $8.75 a yard.

NEW YORK.—Paul T. Cherington, secretary of the National Association of Wool Manufacturers, writing for the Fairchild News Service, charged that "it is a fact that the public has not received a reduction in the price of its clothes commensurate with liquidation of fabric prices."

NEW YORK.—Good "values" are a more certain reality in the wholesale blouse market than for many seasons past. Buyers are entering the market in large numbers. Most store policies, however, are to buy lightly and often.

NEW YORK.—A well known line of Irish overcoats is shown for next fall at wholesale prices ranging from $4.40 to $6.50 a yard. Quotations are slightly lower than last year despite the addition of 2 cents an ounce tariff.

NEW YORK.—Department of Justice investigators seeking price information in New York stores and retail organizations headquarters have been refused information in some cases.

PROPOSE NEW CLEARING HOUSE. A petition was circulated yesterday asking the Board of Trade directors to take up the proposition for a new clearing house.

COTTON MARKETS

Two Attractive New Issues!

Totaling $2,800,000 GUARANTEED

First Mortgage Real Estate Bonds

7 1/2% 7 1/2%

Two Choice Issues:

The first to be secured by land and commercial building already completed and fully occupied. Annual rental is more than double largest interest requirements. Prompt payment of principal and interest guaranteed by a corporation whose net worth is over $5,500,000 and whose net earnings for each of the past three years have been over 12 times interest requirements.

The second issue is to be secured by land and 15 story Fireproof Hotel Building to be located less than a block from one of the main business centers of the country. Total issue of principal and interest is guaranteed by responsible individual who values his other real estate holdings at over $1,000,000.

Here, as in all issues which we offer our customers, the full benefit of the interest rate is passed on to the investor to whom it rightfully belongs.

And the "American Bond Formula of Safety" assures you a mortgage grip on unexcelled security.

The above information, although not guaranteed, has been obtained from sources which we believe insure its accuracy. The bonds are offered subject to prior sale, and when, as, and if issued and received by us.

The Western Pacific Railroad Company

First Mortgage Series "B" 6% Gold Bonds

Dated June 26, 1916

Due March 1, 1946

Interest payable March 1 and September 1 in New York City without deduction for any tax or taxes except the Federal Income Tax.

Redeemable at the option of the Company on any interest date as a whole or in part at 102 1/2% and interest on 60 days' notice.

Coupon bonds in denominations of $1,000, $500 and $100. Fully registered bonds in denominations of $1,000 and authorized multiples thereof.

The issuance of these bonds has been authorized by the Interstate Commerce Commission and the Railroad Commission of California.

First Federal Trust Company and Henry E. Cooper, Esq., Trustees

From reports of the company and other sources we summarize as follows:

The First Mortgage, executed in 1916, is authorized to the amount of $50,000,000, of which amount there are now outstanding $24,062,700 Series "A" 5% bonds, and $3,000,000 Series "B" 6% bonds, this issue. These mortgage bonds constitute the sole funded debt of the company, and are a first lien on the main line of railroad extending from Salt Lake City, Utah, to San Francisco, Cal., and branches, aggregating 1,116 miles.

Including this issue, the bonds issued under the first mortgage will be outstanding at the low rate of $26,700,000 per mile of main line. In addition, the bonds are secured upon the company's extensive and valuable terminal and other railroad facilities in the cities of San Francisco, Oakland, and elsewhere, together with certain rolling stock, equipment, and securities, and all property hereafter acquired with the proceeds of this issue.

Net earnings after expenses and charges, except interest, averaged for four years ending December 31st, 1920, nearly 3 times interest charges. Net earnings 1921 estimated at 1.4 times interest charges. Valuation of Company's properties as tentatively set forth by Interstate Commerce Commission as of 1914, together with capital expenditures since then stated to be at least 3 times total funded debt.

During 1918 and 1919 under Government control, the company showed net Federal income of $2,604,528 and $3,575,968, being 37.05% and 88.17% respectively over and above the guaranteed return. The Western Pacific Railroad Company did not accept the Government guarantee of railway operating income for the six months period immediately succeeding the termination of Federal control.

The First Mortgage bonds are followed by $47,500,000 6% non-cumulative preferred stock, and $27,500,000 common stock, both classes of which are owned in their entirety by the Western Pacific Railroad Corporation, which also controls through entire stock ownership The Denver and Rio Grande Western Railroad Company.

Legal investments for savings banks in Maine, New Hampshire, Ohio, Oregon, and Rhode Island. Application will be made in due course to list these bonds on the New York Stock Exchange. Temporary bonds exchangeable for definitive bonds, when prepared and received, will be delivered upon payment.

The Annual Question

And the Logical Answer

WHEN YOU DIVIDE YOUR PROFITS, get your dividends, interest, bonus, and other money every January, you face the question of what to do with these funds; and, if you are like most investors, you solve it more or less unsuccessfully.

So this is a good time to get the right answer and abide by it—for the sake of peace of mind, freedom from loss and greater prosperity. We believe the true, safe and profitable answer is this:

Make your investments through a House in which your judgment tells you to place unquestioning confidence—a House on which you can cast all of your investment cares.

In finding such a House there is just one absolute guide, the experience of the investing public over a long period of time. This alone can tell you infallibly whether or not a House is worthy of such implicit trust. These facts may assist you:

1. Our experience in Chicago real estate investments began in 1835—87 years ago—and our service has been given to many thousands of clients. We are not aware of one who is dissatisfied.
2. Every First Mortgage Real Estate Gold Bond we ever sold has proven a safe investment, not one buyer of these bonds ever having lost a dollar or been asked to wait for his money when due.

Safe 7% January Investments

If these outstanding facts indicate that H. O. STONE & CO. is the House to serve you, our January Investment Literature will help you decide. Give us the privilege of sending it to you, without obligation.

You may buy our bonds for cash in amounts of $1,000, $500, $250 or $100, or on our Systematic Saving-Investment Plan, 10% down, 10% a month, and get full bond interest while you save. These bonds now pay 7%.

We invite you to call, if you can. Or mail this request form, write, telephone or telegraph at our expense for our January Investment Offerings.
